Woman Held in "Second Hall-Mills Murder Case" Asserts Her Innocence

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl, held without bail in the Atlantic county jail here pending her trial with Willis Beach on November 23 for the murder of Mrs. Lillendahl's late husband, Dr. William Lillendahl, paced her cell furiously today as she asserted her innocence.

Beach, who with Mrs. Lillendahl pleaded not guilty, was quieter—still smiling, but not joking.

"It's an outrage," screamed Mrs. Lillendahl. "The authorities haven't made any real effort to get the murderers. Instead they've taken the easiest path and tried to hang it all on two innocent persons."

Mrs. Lillendahl had paced the floor of her cell for hours. She is the only white woman in the jail. She does not want any visitors, and has not expressed any desire to see Alfred, her 8-year-old son, who is now with relatives in Bridgeport, Conn., unaware of his mother's imprisonment.

Richard Black, special investigator, reported to Chief of County Detectives Frank Harold that he had exploded at least part of Mrs. Lillendahl's explanation of what she was doing in the lonely Atsion road at the time of the murder. Mrs. Lillendahl had told the authorities, it was said, that she was going to visit a Rev. Mr. Green in Indian Mill, a nearby village. Black said he had learned there was no such person as Rev. Mr. Green living in or near Indian Mill.

Detective Harold had been away since Friday night. He was asked directly whether he had been in Moline, Ill., checking a report that a person now there had been ready to identify Beach as a man he had seen near the scene of the crime on Sept. 15. He laughed and answered:

"No, I was taking a little vacation, that's all."

"In Washington, D. C., he said with a grin. He seemed to be elated about the trip, but annoyed at being asked if he had been in Moline."

The trial will start Nov. 28, and preparations were already under way today which indicate that it will be the biggest of its kind in New Jersey since the Hall-Mills trial, and that the name of hitherto obscure little Mays Landing will soon be as familiar throughout the country as was the name of Somerville, N. J., a year ago.

Pretty Girl Aviatrix, In Plane "American Girl," Ready to Jump

Daring Aviatrix Will be Accompanied by Her Navigator, Captain George Haldeman, on Flight Which is Financed by Group of Wheeling, W. Va., Business Men and Others.

IN ADDITION TO MAIN TANKS, "BUS" CARRIES 140 GALLONS OF GASOLINE.

Stinson-Detroit, in Which Miss Elder and Co-pilot Will Cast Lots in Gamble That Has Claimed More Than Dozen Lives This Year, is Duplicate of Ill-fated Carling.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Ruth Elder, beautiful young aviatrix, announced today that she would take off this afternoon for Paris in her plane, "American Girl."

Miss Elder will be accompanied by her navigator, Captain George Haldeman, with whom she will alternate at the controls.

Weather maps which showed improved conditions over the Atlantic were carefully studied before the decision to hop off today was made. All preparations were being made for the start. Necessary provisions were loaded into the fuselage of the plane, and the gasoline tanks filled.

Just before noon, Captain Haldeman stepped into the cabin of the plane and taxied it across the field to the runway. The brilliant orange paint on the machine sparkled in the sunlight. The plane had been fully loaded.

Route Over Old Orchard, Me.

In addition to the main tanks, the plane carries 140 gallons of gasoline in auxiliary tanks of five gallon-capacity each, which are stored in the back of the cabin. As the main tanks are emptied, this auxiliary supply will be poured into the main tanks and the small containers dropped overboard. The proposed route will take the plane over Old Orchard, Maine, where the Sikorski Amphibian plane in which Miss Frances Grayson plans a flight to Europe is being made ready for the trans-Atlantic hop.

The Stinson-Detroit in which Miss Elder and her co-pilot will cast lots in a gamble that has claimed more than a dozen lives this year—the ill-fated John Carling which came to disaster somewhere in the Atlantic flight after two attempts and the Pride of Detroit, the world plane.

Weather Far From Perfect.

For weeks the weather has been adverse to a take-off from New York, but clearing reports during the past few days brought the decision this morning to get under way within a few hours.

However, the weather outlook is far from perfect. The suspense of waiting had begun to tell on the flyers, and they decided that further delay would be disastrous to their plans.

"It's now or never," Haldeman said grimly.

The proposed flight of Miss Elder and her companion is a direct outgrowth of Colonel Charles Lindbergh's trail-blazing trip across the Atlantic. At the time Lindbergh's flight was made, Miss Elder was a dentist's assistant in Lakeland, Fla. She owned a Waco sport plane in which she had flown considerably, and the desire for flying achievement ended in a decision to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight.

She mentioned her plans to H. E. Cornell, wealthy Florida orange planter, who interested Roy McArree, and the two advanced a part of the $35,000 fund, later completed by a group of Wheeling, W. Va., business men, to finance the flight.

Words "Wheeling, U. S. A." on Craft.

The words, "Wheeling, U. S. A." are painted just below the name, "American Girl," on the plane. In the interior of the cabin, suspended from the roof, are two pairs of sheepskin-lined flying boots, emergency rations for four days, searchlights, a hunting knife, and two fur-lined flying suits. Under her flying outfit, Miss Elder will wear grey knickers, a plaid sweater and a white, starched sport shirt. In one pocket of her suit will be an elaborately fitted vanity case, for she has said it is her ambition to step out of the plane at Le Bourget looking as cool and attractive as she has appeared on the field here.

'SOUTHERN CROSS' ON LONG FLIGHT

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 11.—The trans-Atlantic monoplan "Southern Cross" hopped off today on the first lap of its epochal attempt to bridge the 7,000 miles which separate Seattle and Australia.

With the exception of one stop the ship will fly direct to Oakland airport, where the flight proper will start in about a week. A stop will be made at Fort Lewis, near Tacoma, where 250 gallons of gas will be taken on.

VESSELS CRASH; ONE MAY SINK

Crews Unhurt in Shipwreck Off California Coast.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 11.—With a gaping hole in her side and her engine and fire rooms flooded, the coastwise steamer Kekoske, southbound from Oakland to Los Angeles, was reported to be in a precarious condition, as the result of being rammed by the steamer Pomona at 5:30 a. m. today, off Point Arguello, 137 miles north of Los Angeles, according to messages picked up by the United States naval radio compass station on Point Fermin.

EARL McGRAW, 42, DIES IN HOME

Earl McGraw, 42, died today in his home, 418 Grove alley, after a three days' illness of pneumonia. Mr. McGraw, who moved here from Columbus several years ago, leaves his widow, six children, his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGraw, and one brother.

He was a member of the First Church of Christ.

BUNTING TO BE TRIED MONDAY

Today

Monkey Super-Men. This Is Fire Week. The Richest Don't Shoot. Industry and Science.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

PROFESSOR VORONOFF has made old men seem younger with the help of monkey glands, has made science take him seriously.

Now he proposes to create super-men, such as Nietzsche dreamed of, by using animal glands on young children of exceptional talent. He believes that he will create such genius as earth never saw, in the children of children thus treated. The old-fashioned will believe that if monkeys could help create finer men, nature and wise providence would have called on the monkeys long ago.

ALSO a race of super-men is just what the world does NOT want. Tall men like short women, thin women admire fat men, genius marries mediocrity, all proof that nature wants us to march along side by side about even, not a few far ahead of the others, or riding on the backs of inferiors.

THIS is fire prevention week. Fire destroys more than five hundred millions of property yearly. Carelessness with matches, cigarettes, imperfect electric wiring, etc., causes more than $300,000,000 of the loss. That amount, which could be saved, would pay the cost of our national building program, power, irrigation, canals from lakes to ocean and Mississippi flood control, in a few years.

LAW should discourage carelessness. Imprisonment for life with no credit for good behavior nonsense, should punish incendiarism. Property owners insure far full value, or more, and then neglect fire precautions.

Proof of such neglect sought out by paid officials should cancel insurance automatically, and keep it cancelled for three to five years. If that happened, fewer tenement house fires would happen. The landlord would sit up.

PREMIER BALDWIN says Britain and America will never fight. They may not always agree, but they will throw out differences or differ like friends and gentlemen. It's a safe prediction, for various reasons. If Britain and America fought, that hideous stupidity would put the world back five hundred years, and financially speaking, ruin both countries.

IN addition, Britain and America have all they want and more than they want. Why should they fight? Ford, Rockefeller, Baker, Mellon are the four richest men in the world. Can you imagine them going after each other with automatics, mustard bombs, etc.? They compete, fight hard for business and just a few more hundreds of millions, to make the game amusing. But they don't shoot.

GREAT industries, not content with gigantic production, work constantly to produce better methods, of which the public gets the benefit. Standard Oil spends on research work, producing no immediate profit, more money every year than Mr. Rockefeller had.

KNEPPER WILL DEFEND MAN IN MURDER CASE

Wellsville Man Indicted in William Phillips' Death.

ALLEGED FIGHT

Defense Counsel Says 12 Witnesses Will be Called.

Edward Bunting, former Wellsville pugilist, indicted by the September grand jury for second degree murder in the death of William Phillips, Salsineville coal miner, at McCurdy's stop, on the Youngstown and Ohio railroad last June 13, will be placed on trial in common pleas court, Lisbon, next Monday morning.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Bunting, who entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned two weeks ago, is alleged to have fatally injured Phillips during a fist fight.

Attorney Raymond Knepper, Wellsville, has been appointed by Judge W. F. Jones to defend Bunting. The state will be represented by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, of East Liverpool, and his assistant, John E. Bauknecht, of East Palestine. Knepper has announced that 12 witnesses will be called by the defense. It is believed that the case will not require more than two days.

MOTHER PUSHES SON TO DEATH

Boy Plunges From Fifth Floor, Woman Then Leaps.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Grief-torn over the death of her mother, Mrs. Minna Rosenbaum, 27, pushed her six-year-old son to his death from the bathroom window of her fifth-floor apartment today and then leaped out after him, according to police.

Mrs. Rosenbaum suffered probably fatal injuries. The boy, Samuel, Jr., was killed instantly when his head struck the pavement.

This is the second attempt at suicide Mrs. Rosenbaum has made in the last 48 hours. Yesterday, she attempted to hang herself from a clothes drying rack in the kitchen, but her husband found her in time to save her life.

The woman was arrested on a homicide charge in the hospital, but her life is despaired of.

GIRL TO DEFY FATES IN OCEAN HOP

Despite adverse agitation against non-stop ocean hops, Miss Ruth Elder, above, Lakeland, Fla., girl pilot, today planned to jump off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in her plane, "American Girl," for Paris. She was to be accompanied by her navigator, George Haldeman.

Bowdler, in Prison, To Face U. S. Court

Former East Liverpool Attorney And His Business Associate, Gordon D. Ulyatt, Will go on Trial at Wheeling This Month.

A. E. Bowdler, former East Liverpool attorney, and his business associate, Gordon D. Ulyatt, both of Wheeling, serving five-year terms in the Moundsville penitentiary for violation of the state securities act, are among a dozen or more Wheeling business men who will face the federal court at Wheeling this month, charged with using the mails to defraud, it was announced today.

Bowdler and Ulyatt were officers of the Real Estate Guaranty Mortgage company, of Wheeling, which was closed in 1920, following an investigation by the state banking commission. Five years after the failure the men were brought to trial and about a year ago entered prison to serve their sentences. They were also fined $5,000 each.

Many Witnesses Listed.

Others who are under indictment include directors and salesmen for the company. Hundreds of investors in the Panhandle section of West Virginia are said to have lost thousands of dollars when the company failed.

Two sets of indictments have been returned against the defendants. A list of 71 witnesses has been submitted by government counsel to United States Marshal Weiss to be summoned for appearance during the term. Trial of the case at previous terms of court in Wheeling has been delayed because of the absence of a government witness from the district. An accountant who conducted an audit of the books of the two companies whose affairs were involved in the government investigation was in the west on special work, and could not be brought to Wheeling as a witness when court was in session.

MAN GIVES BOND ON AUTO CHARGE

Joseph Staats, 1217 Pennsylvania avenue, is at liberty under $1,000 bond today pending a hearing before municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 10 o'clock tomorrow upon a charge of intent to defraud Mrs. Ida May Stone of a Buick automobile. He was arrested yesterday by Patrolman C. C. Smith.

George O'Hanlon, Kountz avenue, charged with the non-support of his six minor children, was released today after his case was ordered continued. O'Hanlon was ordered to look after his children pending disposition of the case.

MONA M'LENNAN, LONDON DOCTOR, SWIMS CHANNEL

New Record Established in Crossing From French Coast.

13-HOUR STUNT

Second English Woman in Five Days to Accomplish Feat.

FOLKESTONE, Eng., Oct. 11.—Mona M'Lenan, whose real name is Dorothy Cochran Logan, a London doctor, established a new English channel record for women today when she completed a swim from the French coast in 13 hours and 19 minutes. She was the second English woman to swim the channel in five days. The first being Mercedes Gleitz, a young London stenographer. The old record for women was held by Gertrude Ederle, of New York, who swam the channel in 14 hours and 34 minutes.

Upon landing on the beach, Miss M'Lenan collapsed and had to be lifted into the boat which accompanied her across the channel.

Claims $5,000 Prize.

There was considerable confusion about Miss M'Lenan's time, owing to differing reports as to the time of her departure from Cape Griz Nez, France. Her trainer, Horace Carey, and Capt. Adams, of the Royal navy, who accompanied the swimmer in a boat, finally settled the conflicting reports by announcing that Miss M'Lenan entered the water at 7:40.

BANDIT ROBS TOLEDO BANK

Lone Gunman Escapes With $11,000 in Currency.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 11.—A lone bandit who robbed a branch of the Securities Savings Bank and Trust company of $11,000, here today, is being sought in northwestern Ohio and Michigan.

The bandit entered the branch bank at 6 a. m. behind Janitor Charles Lester, and after binding and gagging him waited for the appearance of clerks who knew the vault combination. One woman employee and three men employees were bound and gagged in turn as they appeared for their duties, before the bandit forced the fourth clerk to tell him the vault combination.

After opening the vault the bandit separated the currency from the coins and walked from the bank stuffing the paper money into his pockets. Police believe the man escaped afoot. The clerk bound by the robber were Pearl Morgan, Howard Dilgart, N. J. Hires and Kenneth Balthaser.

OHIO SUPREME COURT LISTENS TO ARGUMENTS IN SEVEN CASES, ALL CHALLENGING JURISDICTION OF JUSTICES IN DRY LAW CASES

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—The Ohio supreme court spent today listening to oral argument submitted in seven cases, all challenging jurisdiction of village mayors and justices of the peace in liquor cases and in suits involving alleged violation of a municipal ordinance regulating traffic. The seven suits were appeals from decrees of lower courts. No decisions in any of these cases were expected to be announced today.

The cases are: The state of Ohio against Emanuel Williams, and the state against Charles Allen, being appeals from the judgment of the Perry county appellate court.

Sam Tari against the state of Ohio, on appeal from the Cuyahoga county appellate court.

Application of Cora Elicker, Shelby county, for writ of habeas corpus so as to release William Elicker from state prison farm, London.

Martin Pickel against the state of Ohio, an appeal from the Cuyahoga county appellate court.

Jacob Gardina against Charles R. Ely, mayor of village of Euclid, on appeal from the Cuyahoga county appellate court.

M. J. Dugan against the state of Ohio, on appeal from the Greene county appellate court.

Earhart Holds Action Valid. Extensive argument in support of the contention that the action of the mayors and justices of the peace who originally tried these cases was valid was submitted by Attorney Charles M. Earhart, Columbus, general counsel for the Ohio anti-saloon league.

Argument presented in support of the claim that the decrees of the village mayors and justices of the peace were invalid included reference to a ruling, handed down early this year, by the United States supreme court, in the Tumey case, declaring invalid that section of the Ohio statute, known as the Crabbe dry act, authorizing village mayors and justices of the peace to receive, as compensation, part of the fines imposed upon persons convicted of violating dry laws.

The cases against Williams and Allen constitute an appeal from the action of the Perry county appellate court which reversed the decision of J. W. Newberry, justice of the peace, Pike township, Perry county, who found Williams and Allen guilty of violating state dry laws. The appeal ate court's decree of reversal was on the ground that "said justice of the peace, the trial court, was without jurisdiction and authority in the premises," and that the conviction and judgment rendered by said justice of the peace are null and void in law, and in violation of the constitutional right (of Williams and Allen) for the reason that said justice's fees and compensation for services is a fee to be taxed in the case, and as such, to be paid to the magistrate only upon conviction of the accused."

In the Sam Tari case, the decree of the Cuyahoga county appellate court, it was argued, was in direct conflict with that of the Perry county appellate court in the Williams and Allen cases. Tari was convicted before Justice of the Peace R. S. Rutledge, or Rocky River, of violating the state dry laws. The appellate court, for the eighth district affirmed the action of Justice Rutledge on the ground that Rutledge was not disqualified to hear the case and to pass judgment.

One Man Given Prison Sentence. Commenting upon the Cuyahoga county appellate court's opinion in this case, Attorney J. V. Zottarelli, Cleveland, counsel for Tari, declared: "Evidently, the court of appeals for the eighth circuit, in their hilly-burly method of affirming judgment, treated the able opinion of Chief Justice Taft, of the United States supreme court, as a bagatelle."

William Elicker was recently convicted in the Shelby county common pleas court of committing a third offense in violation of the Crabbe dry act, and was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary to serve from three to five years and pay a $1,000 fine. This

Emil Jannings Heads Cast at Ceramic Theatre.

Convincing proof that a great motion picture need not necessarily be an epic in number of people used or the size of sets, is to be found at the Ceramic theatre where Emil Jannings' first Paramount starring vehicle, "The Way of All Flesh," is now showing. Here is the foremost motion picture actor of the world today in one of the most dramatically human, vital and gripping pictures the screen has ever shown. "The Way of All Flesh" is a saga of sacrifice, the coming of temptation in the life of a simple, home-loving man, a powerful sermon on the frailty of mankind. To see "The Way of All Flesh" with Jannings as the man who slew himself in the eyes of the world and his family might be spared shame, is to experience a flood of cleansing, thought-provoking emotions. There are laughs and tears; moments when the character seems to faintly speak aloud. By no means is Jannings alone in this drama. Belle Bennett, Phyllis Haver, Donald Keith, Fred Kohler and the many others in the supporting cast give visual evidence that Paramount searched long and assiduously for those capable of giving the rarest of all rarities, a perfect characterization in the varied and exacting roles of a modern motion picture. Victor Fleming, who directed, uses the camera as an accomplished spinner of stories uses words. At times his handling of the plot flashes with genius. Always it is true and con-

DAIRYMEN WILL HOLD SESSIONS

Annual Meeting Listed to Open Tomorrow at Jackson's Mill.

Members of the West Virginia Dairymen's Association will hold their annual meeting at the Jackson's Mill Four-H camp tomorrow and Thursday, according to an announcement made by James V. Hopkins, dairy specialist of the college of agriculture. Dates previously announced, but later changed were October 20 and 21.

Special events of the two days' session will be meetings of the Jersey, Guernsey and Holstein Breeders' association of the state. National representatives of the three associations will be present to aid in the discussion of the breed problems.

Among the prominent speakers secured for the various programs are John Smith, Commissioner of Agriculture; G. L. Burlingham, publisher of the Breeders' Gazette; G. Malcolm Trout, dairy specialist of the College of Agriculture; Nat T. Frame, director of the University Extension Division; and E. L. Anthony, head of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture.

The silver loving cup offered by the state Dairy Association to the owner of the herd making the highest average in butter-fat production during the 1926-27 testing season, won by W. G. Riggs, prominent Jersey breeder of Mountsville, will be presented at this meeting by Professor Anthony.

At the 1926 meeting of the association, a challenge was made by one of the breeders' associations to another association to show the same degree of progress during the ensuing year. This contest is to be decided by means of a score card, at the Jackson's Mill meeting.

Police have found no trace of Thomas Meladick, alleged to have admitted the killing and then made his getaway. Officers who went to Donora, Pa., where he is said to have relatives returned without securing a clue as to his whereabouts.

DELEGATION TO ATTEND MEET

Chester will be represented by a large delegation at the annual convention of the Hancock County Council of Religious Education which will be held Thursday and Friday in the Pughstown Presbyterian church.

Sessions will open Thursday evening with O. E. Heaslett, vice president, in charge. The principal address at this session will be delivered by Z. B. Edworthy, state director of young people's work. Sessions will be held Friday, morning, afternoon and evening.

FEDERAL AGENTS BUSY LAST MONTH

Federal prohibition agents in the northern district of West Virginia were active during the month of September during which period 125 arrests were made.

In the sixth enforcement zone, which comprises West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and three counties in western Maryland the liquor confiscated during the month was estimated at valuation of $1,662,480. These figures were revealed in the monthly report of John D. Pennington, zone chief.

A total of 139 distilleries were confiscated, a total capacity of 12,885 gallons. Sixty-six motor trucks and automobiles were confiscated along with a few horse drawn vehicles. The total value of the vehicles taken is estimated at $53,100.

Ballots For Absent Voters

Voting under the provisions of the Ohio law which permits electors who expect to be absent from their home precinct on election day, Tuesday, November 8, to exercise the right of suffrage not earlier than 30 days before nor later than three days prior to balloting day, is now under way.

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections today announced that ballots will be mailed to voters who make application, setting forth their home precinct and their temporary abode.

The absentee law, enacted in 1917 for the purpose of safeguarding the suffrage privilege of men who had entered the United States military or naval service, removes any excuse for negligence on the part of the elector. An enfranchised citizen has the right to vote irrespective of the distance away from his precinct, and he may do so by mail.

Persons absent from Columbiana county sub-divisions should apply to the clerk of the election board for ballots. It is every citizen's duty to vote.

Maggies and Politicians

Granted that a cat may look at a king, how about magpies biting politicians?

Canberra, Australia's new federal capital, was built amid rural surroundings. Many of the birds and animals who formerly inhabited the very region now occupied by the modern city are still hovering about in the neighboring waste spaces, and they occasionally express their displeasure at the altered conditions.

A dispatch from Canberra tells that wild magpies have savagely bitten children of government officials. The latest victim of this ferocious bird was the federal parliament member for Melbourne. "Most anybody knows a politician or two he'd not mind betraying to the magpies. But children ought to be protected."

There is no suggestion that the capital be abandoned. Instead, local police carry loaded rifles and are under orders to shoot magpies at sight.

It was only by his remarkable ability to disappear into thin air that the Cheshire cat saved his life. The magpies, lacking such magic, are undoubtedly doomed.

Public Ownership

The National Utility association, which represents a capital investment in public service institutions almost as great as the national debt, is worried about "the encroachment of government upon private business." So it is embarking on an "educational campaign" to warn the public of the threatening peril.

The chairman of the committee in charge, George B. Cortelyou, who was a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, explains that "the governmental ideals inherited from our forefathers and our material prosperity are based upon the preservation to each individual of the widest scope for his enterprise."

There will be little question about that. And most of us may wonder what all the fuss is about. If there is any clearly marked tendency in American life at the present time, it is the tendency against public ownership and operation of anything that private enterprise can handle.

Naturally the public interest is always paramount in public utilities and when a situation arises where there is a genuine need that private enterprise cannot or will not take care of, public enterprise has to step in. It is hardly wise or worth while to fight that principle of government.

As matters stand, there doesn't seem to be much cause for worry, since a big majority of citizens look upon government ownership as undesirable and not to be invoked except as a last resort.

Coal Settlement

Some states have settled the coal strike of the United Mine Workers on the basis of the wage agreement that prevailed for the last three years.

That is a liberal scale, $7.50 a day for day work and $1.25 to $2 a ton on tonnage work. Miners can live comfortably on that. Whether operators can operate on it comfortably is a debated question. Evidently they believe they will be more comfortable on that basis than with idle mines.

Morally it is a victory for the strikers. Practically it is a victory for nobody. The miners have had their savings, and the operators their profits, eaten up by overhead charges during the idle period. The industry emerges without any public grievance against it this time, because on the whole the public has not suffered directly from the strike. But it is bad enough to have the same old situation perpetuated.

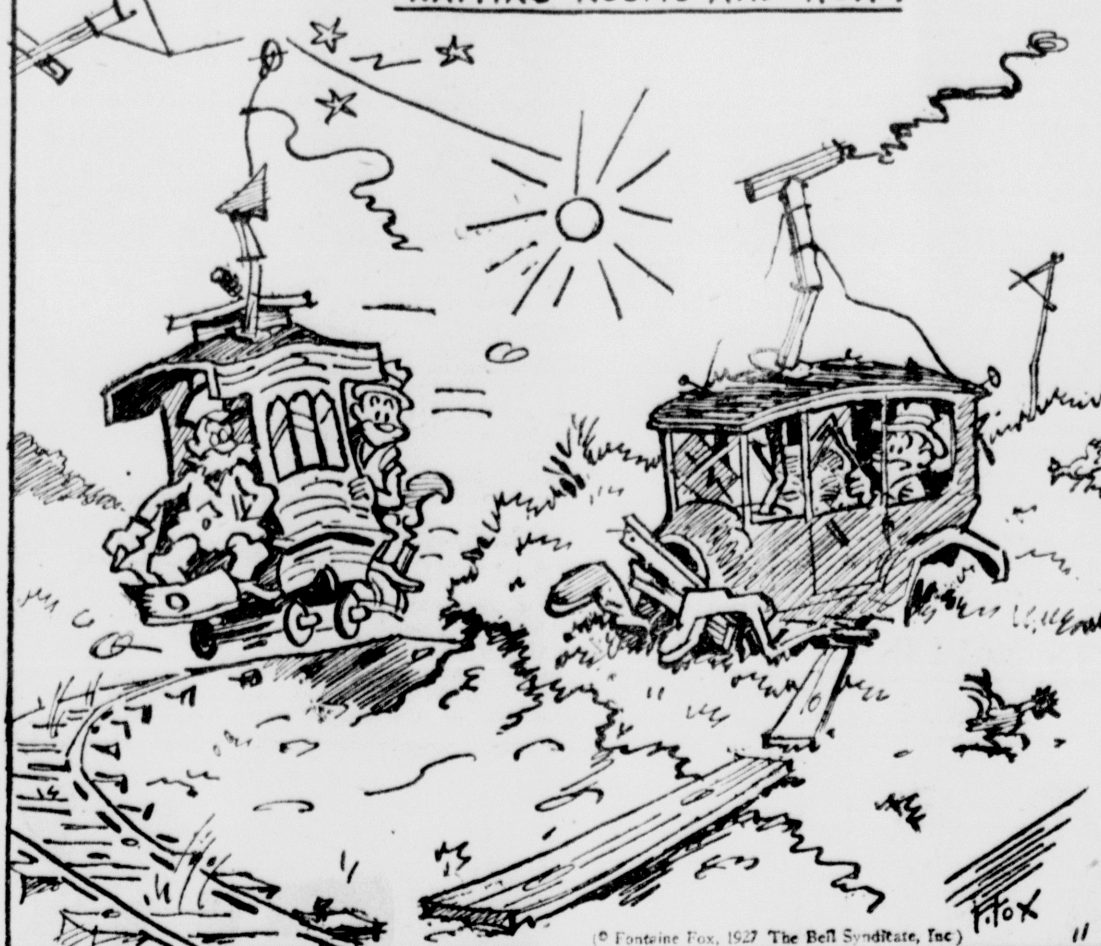

Nothing fundamental is settled. The fact that American industry could live through a six months' strike of the soft coal industry shows more clearly than ever how over-manned and over-mined that industry is. As long as it can produce in half a year enough coal for a whole year, there is bound to be a big waste of man-power and money-power.

Some day, perhaps, an industrial statesman will come along and find some way of employing only enough mines and men to keep them working continuously. Or else work of a different sort may be provided for the miners half the time, if their mines must have seasonal periods of idleness. But no solution is yet in sight.

Lindbergh's plane, after covering more than 25,000 miles, is still going strong. The pilot will need overhauling before the plane does. It doesn't have to attend a banquet every day.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

THE TOONERVILLE TRACTION CO. HAS NEVER IN ITS ENTIRE HISTORY ERECTED A WAITING ROOM OR SHELTER BUT SOME OF THE REGULAR PATRONS HAVE PROVIDED THEMSELVES WITH WAITING ROOMS AND HOW?

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The finish of every chorus girl is supposed to be a picturesque catastrophe. She is either found lifeless under an upset auto near a roadhouse or on a hospital charity cot, being weaned from drink and drugs. Almost invariably the end is pictured as shabby.

This is ridiculous generalization. Not that the chorus hasn't plundered gold-diggers, cafe show-offs, booze and dope addicts and such. It has. Indeed, it has quota of adroit home wreckers who regard polite blackmail as a diversion.

There is also the myth that almost every collegiate is legitimate prey. Once in awhile a college boy is snared into a midnight escapade, but as a rule the chorus girls regard him as a Good Time Charlie for the evening. The hardboiled sisters of the guild angle for bigger game.

After all chorus girls reason, many have married millionaires. Why can't they? These are the ladies, of course, who give the chorus a bad name. Where there is one chorus girl occupying a fancy flat in the West 70s there are a hundred cooking meals over gas jets in mussy theatrical boarding houses or make-up apartments in the Forties.

More than half the girls who come to New York seeking a stage career enter the chorus with no other thought than using this as a means to stepping up in the profession. They may rise no higher than to step out of the line to feed a joke to a comedian, but the ambition is sincere.

An illustrated magazine a month ago showed 19 rather celebrated chorus beauties of the past ten years who are now living in pleasant domesticity. Not one of them married rich men, although it is quite probable they could, had they desired.

And as a matter of fact there are not more than a half dozen truly notorious chorus girls out of the thousands who have appeared on Broadway. Yet all chorus girls come under the same grouping—vain, frivolous creatures with one single and relentless purpose.

An illuminating sidelight on Broadway sidewalk pencil selling was revealed the other day. A beggar, picked up for not having a license, declared he had carried the same five pencils in his outstretched hand for nearly two years.

A few years ago a bright young man, then connected with a press association, fell in love with a young lady reporter on an afternoon paper. He phoned her one evening to go to a

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Progress We Are Making.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—That the introduction of labor saving machinery, while vastly increasing output, has not decreased the number of persons engaged in industry, thereby cutting off their means of livelihood but, on the contrary has increased the number is shown by a study of facts gleaned from industrial figures gathered by the Department of Commerce.

The beginning of the twentieth century may be taken as representing the production index number, 100. In quantity of production this index number had mounted to 275 by 1925; that is, there were two and three quarters times as much produced at the end of the first quarter of the century than at its beginning. As to the number of persons engaged, and still using the start of the century as the 100 mark, the 1925 index number is shown as 157—not far short of twice as many. The greatest gain is in the installation of labor saving machinery through the use of power. Primary horse power in 1900 was 100 and in 1925 had reached 356. The output per capita increased from 100 in 1900 to 147 in 1925.

Such a showing reveals that not only were more people employed but each one of them produced a vastly greater amount of products, thus raising the American standard of living until it now is the highest in the world. Every man has more than he did at the beginning of the century, and he is getting many of these things at a lower price.

Population of the United States, during the period, increased by 54 per cent but production in the four principal classes increased 140 per cent so the new generation, although superadded to the old and further enlarged by millions of immigrants, finds itself with more and better things.

The Department of Commerce recognizes four main branches of production. Agriculture, during the first quarter of the twentieth century, showed a gain of 47 per cent in production. The increase in mining is given as 348 per cent; that in the manufacturing industry, 175 per cent, and in railway transportation, 199 per cent.

Increase In Manufactures.
The outstanding increase, that shown by the mining industry, is interlocked with the increase in manufacturing. The labor saving machinery, which has made possible the increase in manufactured goods, has required millions of tons of metal to construct and, therefore, more minerals have been dug from the ground to meet this demand.

When one pauses to think of the 22,000,000 automobiles being operated in the United States, it will be seen at a glance where much of this metal went, but there have been other mighty increases. The weight of steel rails has been increased, building construction now is almost invariably of steel, office and even household furniture absorbs much steel, and the electrical industry utilizes tons upon tons of copper.

It may be noted in passing that these figures on increased production do not include the enormous increase in building of both commercial and residential structures. The metal that goes into them shows in the mining group, the manufactured items in the group comprising manufactures, but the increase in total value of buildings, non-manufactured items, labor costs, professional services, such as architects' and engineers' fees do not appear at all. Nor have facilities for amusement and recreation been included. Even more marked percentages of gain doubtless would be found in these classes.

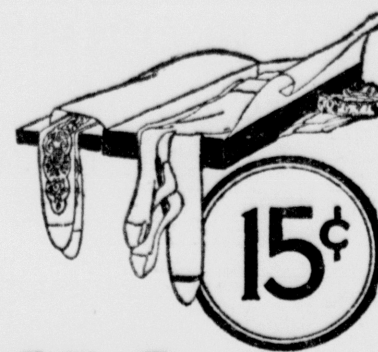

The introduction of labor saving devices of necessity would cause a decrease in the number of employed were it not for the fact that mass production, by cheaper means, enables producers to lower prices to a point where the demand is far greater, thereby calling into employment even more men than were released by the machines. Did the demand remain static, many would remain out of employment.

Then, too, the enlargement of businesses requires greatly increased numbers to handle the clerical work entailed and the distribution of products. Whole new industries or professions are born as the result of the increased output of the machines. Probably ten men and women are employed in advertising work now where but one was so employed at the beginning of the century.

Increased Efficiency Helps.
The big gain in per capita production has come about not only through the use of machinery but through the constant improvements made in machinery.

SENATOR WILLIS SPEAKS AT WELLSVILLE DINNER

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS STORY OF ALASKAN VISIT

Great Possibilities and Resources of Northwest Cited.

140 ATTEND MEET

Congressman Frank Murphy, Steubenville, is Guest.

Digressing from his central theme long enough to impress upon his hearers the fact that Mississippi flood control is a national rather than a local problem, and that the United States should strengthen the weak points in its navy as well as its air forces, United States Senator Frank Willis, of Ada, last night gave approximately 110 guests at the Wellsville Kiwanis club dinner meeting an interesting description of the nation's territories and insular possessions.

The dinner, held in the First United Presbyterian church, attracted visitors from all sections of the county. Although the principal speaker of the evening, Senator Willis, shared honors with Congressman Frank B. Murphy, of Steubenville, whom the upper house member characterized as "Square, upright, energetic and tight on every moral question." Of Congressman Murphy, Senator Willis said, "You don't have to put out draglines to find out how Murphy stands on foremost questions of the day."

At the speakers' table with the national legislators were W. R. MacDonald, president of the Wellsville Kiwanis club; S. E. Daw, secretary; Mayor W. L. Fogo and Russell C. Heddleston and their wives.

Columbiana county Kiwanis clubs were represented as follows: Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Heddleston and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hobbs, East Liverpool; John Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Deemer, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barlow, Lisbon; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mellinger and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Anglemeyer, Leontia.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Miss Martha Ewing, Mrs. W. C. Connor, Mrs. S. E. Daw, Mrs. T. C. McClelland, Miss Ina Daw, Mrs. R. W. Ustick, Mrs. T. A. Hildebrand, Mrs. J. A. Forbes, Mrs. O. H. Russell, Mrs. McCulloch and Mrs. Raymond McLean.

Chicken dinner was served under auspices of ladies of the church. Following his description of the nation's territorial resources, Senator Willis discussed other questions briefly, chiefly the strengthening of the navy and air forces, control of flood conditions in the Mississippi valley, reduction of taxes and Soviet Russia.

"The control of conditions in the Mississippi valley," he said, "is a national problem because 31 states drain into the Gulf by this route." Senator Willis said he expected to make a personal inspection of conditions in the valley as soon as time permitted.

In an emphatic statement, he declared that he would do everything in his power to help move to extend recognition to Soviet Russia. Discussing proposed congressional action he asserted that "that's one of the things that won't be done."

Interesting facts about our possessions, especially Alaska, were outlined in the visiting legislator's address.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Short covering and speculative buying of the active industrial stocks at the beginning of trading today resulted in moderate price gains in the steel, motor and specialty stocks. High-grade investment dividend-paying utilities also resumed their forward move, under the lead of A. T. & T., while further "demonstrations against the shorts" were made in Houston Oil and General Motors.

Though the "shake-up" of the last week or so has had its effect on the technical position of the market, the Wall Street commission houses broadcasted extreme conservatism in their market bulletins, advising sales on rallies instead of purchases on the dips. Each advance of the speculative leaders brought out a good volume of selling orders, and the early gains of a Senator Willis said in part: "The people of the United States do not know as much as they ought to know about the great possessions belonging to our country. These possessions appear to be far away and are disposed to think of them as something that can be handed some other time. The people of these possessions suffer in congress from this attitude. Legislation effecting them is something that can be pushed off to some other time. It is not immediately in the mind of the members of congress, their legislation seems to be of more importance."

"In connection with my work as a member and chairman of the senate committee on territories and insular possessions, it seemed to me desirable that I should visit our great northwest territory of Alaska this summer, and I spent the entire month of August there. I went as a private citizen of my own motion, paying my own way and therefore, was perfectly free to go when and where I pleased and make such inquiries as to me seemed proper."

"I was greatly impressed with this territory covering as it does almost one-fourth the same area as is occupied by the United States. Its resources impressed me as being almost beyond belief. Only 25,000 white people and approximately the same number of natives live there, so that this last great American frontier presents to the people in my judgment great opportunities and great resources for the future."

"The people of Alaska are energetic, courageous, honest, industrious. Life and property are as safe in Alaska as in any State of the Union. Robbery and holdups are unheard of. I traveled more than a thousand miles into the interior visiting farmers, mining camps, road construction gangs, etc. I did not see one drunken man during the whole time I was in Alaska."

The resources of this great empire are almost beyond belief. Coal veins more than 49 feet thick outcrop at numerous points. In the Healey district, this coal is being mined with modern machinery and under the best possible conditions. The veins being worked at this particular mine have a combined thickness of 250 feet. This block of coal extends over hundreds of square miles and is exceedingly rich in fuel, oil, gasoline, and other by-products. From the Matanuska comes coal as fine as any mined in Ohio, Pennsylvania, or West Virginia. The deposit is almost unlimited in extent.

Alaska has pulp wood sufficient to supply with proper planning the demand for news-print paper for generations to come. This industry is just beginning to develop. The mineral wealth of Alaska is vast, yet by no means fully explored. It is doubtful as to whether more than 5 per cent has been actually explored, so that its mineral wealth cannot be definitely known. The days of the stampede and the gold rush are over. Gold production now has assumed a permanent status. One company near Fairbanks is investing some $15,000,000 to develop a gigantic placer project. A canal is built 80 miles around the mountainside in order to bring the water supply sufficient to carry on this great industry.

One of the greatest sources of the world's copper supply is to be found at Kennicott and at Letchworth. While these sources are numerous, the surface has only been scratched. The vast copper mountains have not yet begun to yield their wealth.

The fisheries of Alaska produce $40,000,000 worth of valuable food products each year. As the industries which employ large numbers of men, such as mining, lumbering, and fishing, are developed there will come a market for the agricultural products which Alaska can produce in vast volume. The world at large is greatly mistaken as to Alaska's climate. The school children learn of Alaska through pictures of Eskimos, dog sleds and icebergs. When these children come to maturity, they retain the idea that Alaska is an inhospitable country, so far as the climate is concerned. This is quite contrary to the fact. In southeastern Alaska and south of the Alaska range, the climate is not unlike that of western United States. The temperature seldom reaches zero in the coldest winters. The harbors at Seward and Valdez are open the year round. It is only in the Yukon country and the point or two were promptly wiped out. A slight decline in crude oil production and a firming up of the oil and commodity markets was noted in this period. Some improvement was also reported in the steel industry, though the steel trade authorities stated that there has probably not been sufficient advance buying to enable the industry to regain its pace of July and August. Buying for the oil and automobile industries has fallen off.

Except for the firm tone in steel common and General Motors, the steel and motor shares as a group were unable to maintain the pace set by the leaders in Monday's final period. Bethlehem Steel, Crucible, Youngstown, Studebaker, Chrysler and other well known market leaders declined to lower levels, with lack of buying power distinct. Houston Oil tumbled to 16 1/2 for a seven-point loss, and the Texas sulphur stocks moved downward in an uneven market. Rails were inactive and copper firms. Call money 4 per cent.

Enjoy your food—
as it nourishes your body

If your appetite is not keen you owe it to yourself to take S.S.S. regularly before each meal. It will give you a good appetite.

In these days of fast competition, only full-blooded, robust, healthy people can keep to the front, and success comes to those who have the snap, vigor and magnetism that go with a wholesome, healthy life. Don't despair because others forge ahead of you. Start right now to regain the health which will help you progress. A hearty appetite will restore your energy, build you up and give you "pep."

Thousands have benefited themselves and kept their bodies in good repair by occasionally taking a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles and it improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

S.S.S. is time tried and reliable. It is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

far north that the excessive cold weather is experienced.

The ordinary traveler is surprised at the wealth of Alaskan flowers, fruit and agricultural products. Raspberries, strawberries, currants and many other edible berries yield in the greatest profusion. I have never seen anywhere finer strawberries than those produced in the gardens at Valdez and elsewhere in southern Alaska. Alaskan flowers are simply beyond description. In richness of color and size they exceed anything produced on the mainland. In the vicinity of Fairbanks there are splendid fields of wheat. I personally visited a number of these. The crop this year will run between 25 and 30 bushels per acre. Alaska is amply capable of raising all the wheat, etc., and type needed for the large population which will eventually find a home there. Root crops are raised most successfully. Potatoes, carrots, parsnips, etc., are as good as can be found anywhere in the states.

The greatest need that Alaska experiences at the present moment is for better transportation. As the facilities for travel and communication are improved, industries will develop, more people will live in Alaska as they learn of its advantages, and this enlarged population will furnish a ready market for the farmers' products.

Alaska makes more practical use of the airplane than any other section of the country. In Fairbanks where I spent some time, the airplane is looked upon, not as an experiment, but as a permanent part of the agencies of transportation. Business men, professional men and miners think nothing of long trips in the airplane in the pursuit of their various vocations.

Capital is, of course, needed for the development of the resources of this most interesting section of our country. Wise legislation and better transportation will encourage investment of capital. No one is to be permitted to plunder Alaska, but at the same time, people should be encouraged to go there, invest their money there, develop the country, and make homes for happy and prosperous people.

The court has granted leave to E. G. Whitacre, doing business as the Whitacre Boiler Co., to file its answer to the petition of the American Brass & Iron Co., on or before Nov. 1. In this case the plaintiff seeks the recovery of a claim of $1,789.17, the petition on which was filed July 11, last.

SUCCOTH FEAST IS OBSERVED

Special Services in Sons of Jacob Synagogue.

East Liverpool Jews today began the annual observance of the Feast of the Tabernacle, or Succoth. The holiday is one of the most important ones in the Jewish year. For the Orthodox Jews the observance will run for nine days and for the Reform Jews but eight days.

No services of a special nature will be conducted by the Reform Jewish congregation, meeting in the N.E. Israel Temple, corner West Fifth and Monroe streets. Special services will be held in the Sons of Jacob synagogue tonight, Wednesday morning and evening and every morning until the close of the holiday season on October 11.

The Succoth festival is based upon two fundamental ideas. It is, first of all, the harvest festival, a period celebrated with great joy by the Jews of long ago in Palestine, a festival of rejoicing and thanksgiving to God for His bounteous crops. The festival has, likewise, a historical significance. It commemorates the successful forty-year journey of the Israelites through the wilderness after the exodus from Egypt, and is reminiscent of the fact that the Israelites dwelt in booths during this entire period.

For this reason the Jews are commanded in the Bible to dwell in booths during the festival, a custom which is quite popularly observed even today. Where climatic conditions permit, the Jews erect wooden booths roofed over with leaves and palm branches and spend part of their time therein. Where climatic conditions do not permit, a Succah is erected in the synagogue grounds. The Feast of the Tabernacles is one of the most joyful of all the Jewish festivals and is always observed with great rejoicing and gladness.

Enjoy your food—
as it nourishes your body

If your appetite is not keen you owe it to yourself to take S.S.S. regularly before each meal. It will give you a good appetite.

In these days of fast competition, only full-blooded, robust, healthy people can keep to the front, and success comes to those who have the snap, vigor and magnetism that go with a wholesome, healthy life. Don't despair because others forge ahead of you. Start right now to regain the health which will help you progress. A hearty appetite will restore your energy, build you up and give you "pep."

Thousands have benefited themselves and kept their bodies in good repair by occasionally taking a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles and it improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

S.S.S. is time tried and reliable. It is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

WHO MADE THE WAR?
President Von Hindenburg makes a speech in which he formally declares that Germany was not responsible for the World war. He says the extreme measure was only resorted to as a measure of self preservation when Germany was surrounded by a "host of enemies." He suggests an impartial court in which his country can prove her innocence. All this is not very important now. As the years go on it makes little difference who started the war. The chief concern of the best brains in all nations is to prevent another. When international conditions reach a certain stage prevention of war is impossible. Prevention must begin a long time before, with the building up of an enlightened public opinion.

THE LUCKY ROD.
John Hertz, who made yellow taxicabs famous, and also made millions, used to be a newsboy. Later he was a delivery wagon driver and an office boy. In his boyhood he sold his textbooks and ran away from school. His father gave him a good whipping. "Dad certainly spanked me hard," he said, "but I deserved it."

That licking boosted John Hertz into a real ambition to go far. He looks back at it as the real turning point in his early life. Punishments are not pleasant at any stage of the game. Coming at the right time they may prove to be the one thing needed.

WORSE THAN ALCOHOL.
Dean Inge, of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, says: "The most important of the social evils in England are betting and gambling. They have a more potent influence in ruining a man than alcohol, which ruins only a few."

The unluckiest thing that can happen to a young man is to be lucky in his early gambling. He gets the idea he can get something for nothing. It takes years of hard and unhappy experience to find out that it can't be done.

LOOKING AHEAD.
Giving money for the purpose of doing something for the next generation shows more good sense than the effort to take care of people who have reached their maturity in this generation. When William H. Liden, wealthy candy maker of Pennsylvania, arranged to give a bonus to the head of every family who will keep his children in school above the age of 14, he was looking ahead. Most

BEGIN LISBON ROAD PROJECT

Amiesite Resurfacing Job Started by Contractor.

Contractor George B. Patterson yesterday began the resurfacing of the Lisbon road, beginning at a point near the city limits, at the foot of the Lisbon hill.

Under terms of the contract recently awarded by the city, Patterson is laying a thick coating of amiesite over the present brick surface. Traffic will not be delayed or forced to detour during the resurfacing operations as the material used solidifies rapidly and is ready for use a few hours after its application to the bricks.

California Fig Syrup is a purely vegetable product. It will do any child a world of good; it is, in fact, a very wonderful conditioner for children or adults. Its rich, fruity flavor is so delicious, it's no hardship to take! Nor can it harm even an infant! Only one caution: be sure to get the genuine California Fig Syrup; don't neglect to say "California." It isn't expensive—sixty cents for a generous bottle at all dealers.

Try California Fig Syrup two weeks on any child, and let his altered appearance and actions tell the full story!

GLENN TRYON IN SCREEN HIT

"Painting the Town," at Strand, is Comedy Success.

If your constitution can stand an hour or so of hearty and almost continuous laughter, go to the Strand theatre and see "Painting the Town," the feature picture which opened there last night. It is ideal film entertainment built around the adventures of a small-town smart aleck and his adventures in New York. Also, it serves to introduce to the moving picture public a new comedy star in the person of Glenn Tryon. Watch him come to the front.

Tryon, who has been seen here in short comedies with more or less success, seems to have hit his stride in "Painting the Town." As a young village combination of Thomas Edison and Henry Ford with a flare for tricky inventions and wise-cracking, he creates a sensation in New York on his quest for fame and fortune. His specialties are a quick-stopping front wheel brake automobile, and his interest in a certain Follies beauty. His efforts in landing a big contract from the Fire Commissioner for his cars, and in winning the interest and heart of the Follies queen provide a rapid succession of laughable situations and opportunities for funny gags and subtitles.

Patsy Ruth Miller is the girl and as usual is easy to look upon and competent in her acting. The others in the cast are well chosen including George Fawcett, Charles Gerard, Sidney Bracey and Max Ascher. The picture, which was made by Universal, is the screen adaptation of a story by Harry O. Hoyt, directed by William J. Craft. Tryon won a five year contract with Universal on the strength of his clever characterization in this feature. George Fawcett never had a richer opportunity to be his lovable, comical self.

REMUS WILL DEFEND HIMSELF IN MURDER TRIAL

FORMER LIQUOR KING TO PLAY LAWYER ROLE

Ohioan's Fortune Said to Have Been Found in Michigan.

ASSAILS DODGE

Coroner Refuses to Permit Prisoner to Attend Inquest.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 11.—Ridiculing the report that Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus had cashed $1,800,000 in a local bank, as reported from Cincinnati, Franklin Dodge today declared that George Remus killed Mrs. Remus because of money and for no other reason.

Remus tried to have his wife sign a settlement agreement under which Remus would have obtained a divorce, Dodge said, but the bootlegger would have obtained practically all of their property, most of which was in Mrs. Remus' name.

Report Nine Cases of Paralysis.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—Nine cases of infantile paralysis in Ohio were officially reported to the state health department during the past 24 hours. It was stated today. No new territory was affected. Three deaths, all from Licking county, were reported.

The new cases were: Licking county, 3; Deafness county, 2; Williams county, 2; Cincinnati, 1; Summit county, 1.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 11.—"So Franklin Dodge and my wife were not in collusion," challenged George L. Remus from his cell in Hamilton county jail today.

"Discovered right in his home town—the cache," was the comment of the former bootleg king as he anxiously awaited the return of George L. Remus, his secretary, who discovered the supposed hiding place of the Remus fortune at Lansing, Michigan, yesterday.

"There should be $1,800,000 worth of stocks, bonds and warehouse certificates in that vault but Dodge only knows how much is left," said Remus when told of the discovery.

"However, it is not the contents of the vault that is important to me, but to prove that they visited the vault together."

"George Remus will defend George Remus. I am not George Remus, the lawyer, not George Remus, the bootlegger," declared Geo. L. Remus, former bootleg king.

Safeguards Letters.

"In this little green box I call my 'liberty box' I have my freedom," he declared, exhibiting a small security lock-box filled with legal looking documents, photostatic copies of letters, other papers and notes.

"This little liberty box has a good chance of becoming as famous as the black bag in the teapot dome scandal."

"George Remus is not a squealer but George Remus is fighting for his life."

"I undoubtedly will have to use many of these documents to prove my charges."

Friends and relatives are attempting to influence Remus to engage counsel but the former Chicago lawyer is insistent that he will defend himself.

Ramola Remus, his daughter, is outwardly worried about her father's prospects if he defends himself. "The public and jury may construe my father's actions as theatrics," was her comment, prior to her departure for Chicago last night. "I do hope he changes his mind."

Bury Victim in Chicago.

It was expected that Remus would have his first in-laws as his own lawyer at the inquest scheduled today. This was blocked, however, by Coroner Fred C. Swing, when he announced that he would not permit Remus to be present at the inquest.

"I am only calling the essential witnesses to prove the cause of death of Mrs. Remus," declared Coroner Swing. Neither Remus nor his adopted daughter will be present. Only Mrs. Remus and her grand-nephew, Mrs. Brown, returned from Chicago last night where they had buried Mrs. Imogene Remus in the Rose Hill cemetery.

Catch Reported Found.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 11.—The next move in the controversy over the contents of a safety deposit box said to have been rented in the American State bank here by Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus, is up to her husband, George Remus, "king of the bootleggers" who is held in Cincinnati charged with his wife's murder, officials of the bank said today.

Remus is quoted as stating he received a telegram from his private secretary, George J. Conners, in Lansing, to the effect that Conners had found what he believed to be a cache of $1,800,000 in the bank but that officials of the institution refused to let him examine the safety deposit box.

"We have the right to protect all depositors and, anyway, it would be against good banking practice to permit Conners to enter the vault," one bank official said. "We refuse to divulge any information unless forced to do so by court order."

ROYAL CHILD BORN IN BELGIUM

BRUXELLES, Oct. 11.—Princess Astrid, wife of the Belgian Crown Prince Leopold, gave birth to a daughter today at 8 a. m.

It was announced that the new princess will be christened Josephine Charlotte. Her godmother will be the grand duchess of Luxembourg and Albert, king of the Belgians, will be her godfather.

Although the royal child was born at 8 o'clock, the chancellor of the Royal Palace did not announce the event until an hour and three quarters later.

The date of the christening ceremony was not definitely set today. Since the day she came from her native Sweden to marry the Belgian prince, Astrid has endeavored herself to the populace of her adopted country.

Her marriage to Leopold was looked upon as a real love-match and caused rejoicing in both countries.

FEAR SOLOMON ISLANDS UPRISING; TWO MISSIONARIES MASSACRED

Australian Cruiser Answers Appeal for Assistance After Natives Wipe Out Crew of Ship.

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 11.—The Australian cruiser Adelaide was ordered to leave here today for the Solomon islands in response to an appeal for immediate assistance from the white residents of the islands, who fear a general native uprising.

Wireless advices reported the natives had already massacred two white missionaries and the entire crew of a native missionary ship.

Whites in the outlying points of the islands have been armed with rifles. Officials here believed the outbreak to be due to religious mania on the part of the natives.

Massacre Ship Crew.

According to the wireless dispatches from the Solomons, the natives, in war canoes and full war paint, attacked the native missionary ship Auki and massacred the entire crew.

White women and children were reported fleeing terror-stricken from inland plantations to coastal points where the natives are concentrating.

The cruiser Adelaide is expected to reach the island in three days. A landing party of blue-jackets will be sent through the jungle to the scene of the outrages with the intentions of punishing the murderers and setting an example for the rest of the natives.

Jungle fighting of some intensity is expected by the authorities.

It was said here today that the supply ship Biloela was to leave on Friday with stores and munitions for an extensive campaign.

BELGRADE, Oct. 11.—Following a conference between the Bulgarian foreign minister and the Jugo-Slav diplomatic minister at Sofia, an agreement was reached regarding comitadj raids upon Jugo-Slav soil which is expected to result in a friendly settlement, said advices from Sofia today. Friction between the two countries has lessened, and it is believed that all danger of a break is over.

SCOTT'S BODY TAKEN TO HIS WINDSOR HOME

Convicted Slayer's Remains Will be Buried in Canada.

WREATH OF FERNS

Father and Wife Arrive on Another Train.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 11.—The remains of Russell Scott, who hanged himself in the Cook county jail Saturday night after he had been reprieved eight times near the hour of his execution, came home today—alone.

Just as he mysteriously disappeared, hatless and unnoticed, from his magnificent bridge promotion offices here five years ago, his body, now enclosed in a crude pine box, drew scant attention when it was trundled onto a baggage truck at the Michigan Central station.

Only a small, frayed wreath of ferns gave evidence of sorrow for the one time millionaire.

Through the neglect of the train conductor, the two who kept faith with Scott during his three year fight against the noose, were not present.

The father, Thomas Scott, and Russell's wife, Catherine, whose heroic efforts were principally responsible for saving Scott from death eight times later on another train.

The body had already been moved when Mrs. Scott and her aged father-in-law arrived.

Rites Will Be Simple.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been announced. It is expected, however, the rites will be simple, with burial in a Windsor cemetery.

The elder Scott was leaning heavily on the arm of the woman and their haggard faces showed the strain of recent days and a sleepless trip from Chicago.

Both were dry eyed, although the father's eyes were rimmed with red circles.

Of the two Mrs. Scott appeared to be bearing the ordeal better. In a dark dress and coat, shiny with wear, her head was erect.

Funeral services for Scott will be held from the parlors of Chapin and Sons, Windsor, at 4 o'clock today.

Only a few friends and the immediate members of the family will be admitted. Burial will be in a Windsor cemetery.

A nation intelligent enough to harness lightning should be too decent to use it killing miserable, often mentally irresponsible human beings.

MEXICAN government airplanes are bombing scattered bands of revolutionists, as you read this, and Calles and Obregon announce that the "revolt" is crushed.

When Mr. Taft was running for a second term, and doubt of his election was expressed, a well educated Mexican asked "is not President Taft head of your Army and Navy and if so what is to prevent his re-election?"

IT is not easy for creatures on the ground to fight against others in the air. Rabbits attacked by hawks made that discover long ago. Rebels fighting Spain and France made the discovery recently in Morocco. The American government will make the discovery some day. Then it will take aviation seriously, stop building battleships that would have to hide from flyers in war.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR OPEN OHIO MEET

AKRON, O., Oct. 11.—Approximately 10,000 Knights Templar were in this city today for the opening of the 85th annual state convocation.

The city has taken on a holiday aspect, with the downtown district decorated with flags and bunting. Prominent members of the order from all commanderies in the state began to arrive yesterday and will remain through the three-day session. The parade Wednesday will be the feature event.

ROTARY HEARS DR. W. A. HOBBS

Physician Shows Movies of Scenes in Holy Land.

Motion pictures taken on his recent visit to the Holy Lands, were shown by Dr. W. A. Hobbs at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon today.

Dr. Hobbs was introduced by Harry Watkins, superintendent of the Edwin M. Knowles China company, Newell. In the absence of President Martin Abbott, Past President Frank L. Wells, Wellsville, presided.

The chorus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran who also rendered a solo number, "Yur Land and My Land," with Mrs. Danks Cochran as accompanist.

Announcement was made that Wilbur A. Nagel would be chairman of next Tuesday's meeting. A "surprise" program will be presented.

TRUCK IN CRASH, DRIVER UNHURT

Frank Goodwin, driver, escaped injury when a truck owned by the Watson Hardware company, which he was driving, went over an embankment along Hague avenue, West End, yesterday afternoon.

Goodwin was turning in the narrow road when the machine started over the hillside. He leaped from his seat. The machine turned over several times before coming to a stop against the side of a dwelling.

Fearing that the truck would catch fire the fire department was called. The flying squadron and Fire Chief Bryan's car responding. McElravy Brothers removed the truck.

LEGIONNAIRES START FOR HOME

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Without formal ceremony but escorted to the station by representatives of the war office, British legion and foreign office, three trainloads of American Legionnaires left the Waterloo station today for Southampton where they will embark for home aboard the Leviathan.

When the huge liner slips out to sea she will have aboard 1,800 legionnaires, more than she carried when she left New York with her list of delegates to the Paris convention.

REFUSE TO PAY GUARDS' TAXI BILL

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Oct. 11.—Belmont county commissioners today refused to pay a bill of $240 for taxi-cab service and automobile hire for Major Ray Bowland, Col. Don Caldwell and Major Cole, Gov. Donahay's personal observers in the eastern Ohio coal fields. The national guard officers were detailed as "observers" by Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson at the request of Gov. Donahay.

The commissioners took the position that Gov. Donahay should arrange for compensation from some other source for the bills incurred by his observers.

THIEVES STRIP CRAWFORD AUTO

Elmer Crawford, Allison street insurance agent, reported to the police today that thieves broke into his garage near his home last night and stole two tires and a wheel from his Ford sedan.

TREMOR ROCKS NORTHERN JAPAN

TOKIO, Oct. 11.—An earthquake of considerable intensity rocked entire northern Japan today. Although the tremor caused fright among the inhabitants, no injuries were reported and property damage was negligible. Clocks in Tokio were stopped by the earth tremor.

D. E. BUTLER K. C. GUEST TONIGHT

Daniel E. Butler, Toledo, special agent of the Knights of Columbus, will be the guest of honor at a smoker to be given by members of Carroll council, No. 509, Knights of Columbus, in their hall in the Ingram building, Diamond at 8 o'clock tonight.

NAB EIGHT MEN IN 'POKER' RAID

Wellsville Police Arrest Earl Dinsmoor and Seven Others.

Earl Dinsmoor is charged with keeping a place where gambling is permitted and seven others with gambling as a result of a raid by Wellsville police last night at midnight at Dinsmoor's bowling alley and pool room, Seventeenth and Main streets.

Blanket bond of $100 was posted for the appearance of the octet tonight at 7 o'clock before Mayor Wallace L. Fogo.

The seven charged with gambling include Smith Cooper, James Brennan, Norman Robinson, George Leard, Mike Dash, Ralph Anania and Henry Snyder.

Police, including Patrolmen Hanlon, Pugh and Reed, were unable to effect an entrance in their first visit to the Dinsmoor place at 11 o'clock, but returned later to make the arrests after climbing to a second story window by ladder.

the rations. They consist of three and one-half pounds of roast chicken, three thermos bottles filled with coffee, a fourth filled with beef tea, eight turkey sandwiches, 12 Swiss cheese sandwiches, half a dozen oranges and six chocolate bars. These, packed in a hamper, are to swing from the cabin roof during the journey.

The extra cans of gasoline are painted a bright red and each of them bears the name of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman. They will constitute a series of markers indicating the passage of the "American Girl."

Cruising Range of 4,500 Miles.

At 11:30 a. m., with the aid of spectators, cameramen, county police and mechanics "The American Girl" was run up the mound. A light easterly breeze was blowing and everything pointed to excellent conditions for the take-off.

The tanks held 275 gallons of gasoline when Captain Haldeman taxied the plane to the runway. A tank truck drew up alongside the mound and poured in 200 gallons more to fill the plane's tanks, giving a total of 475 gallons, sufficient, according to Captain Haldeman, to give the plane a cruising range of approximately 4,500 miles under normal conditions and perhaps 5,000 miles with helpful tail winds. With the gasoline twenty and one-half gallons of oil and the remainder of the useful load, the plane at take-off was to weigh 5,600 pounds.

At 11:40 a. m., police were roping off the sides of the runway to keep the crowds in check at the take-off.

At the same time Cardwell and his assistant, Roy Morehouse, temporarily removed the radio set from the plane and tested it on the ground. It functioned perfectly, Cardwell said.

FRANCE RECEIVES U. S. TARIFF NOTE

PARIS, Oct. 11.—A new American tariff note, which is described as "conciliatory," was presented to the French government today. American Charge d'Affaires Sheldon Whitehouse took the communication to the foreign office, where he handed it to M. Beaumarchais, director of political and commercial affairs in the foreign ministry.

$200,000 BLAZE SWEEPS TANNERY

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 11.—Fire early today destroyed the Elk tannery at Tunkhannock, near here, and its entire stock of cured leather, with a loss estimated at $200,000. The fire spread to the homes of Superintendent B. J. Benjamin and Burgess William Kittredge, nearby, and a general alarm was sent to all surrounding communities.

Fugitive From Justice Arrested.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Captain John Wholey, fugitive from justice for four years, was returned to Cleveland today from Baltimore where he was arrested last week, for federal officials.

Wholey was arrested at Painesville when his boat, containing a cargo of liquor was confiscated. He was released at the time on $7,500 bond which he furnished and later failed to appear for trial.

Boxer Stabbed by Fleeing Negro.

COVINGTON, Ky., Oct. 11.—Joe Anderson, 25, of Covington, a lightweight boxer, was stabbed and seriously injured by a negro here today, when he attempted to hold the fleeing negro, who was being pursued by city firemen.

Commercial aircraft flew a total of 1,774,368 miles in America last year.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN AUTOS

Ford touring car, owned by George E. Pickens, stolen while parked in front of the First Baptist church last night, was recovered by police near the old county bridge, spanning Beaver creek, at the state line today. The machine had been stripped of its tires, battery and other equipment.

Studebaker four-passenger coupe, owned by Attorney James P. McGarry, stolen last night while parked in Fifth street, was recovered about an hour later in Sixth street.

NEW FORD CAR PROMISED SOON

Manufacturing Plants Now Turning Out Parts.

DETROIT, Oct. 11.—The Ford Motor company will begin to turn out its new model car within a few days, it was announced today.

"The manufacturing plants have been at work for several weeks turning out major parts of the new car and a few days more will see the famous assembly line in operation to produce the first of the new type cars," the announcement says.

At the same time the sales department of the company said that 125,000 "advance orders with deposits" for the new car, not yet in production, has been placed with authorized Ford dealers in the United States.

Approximately a quarter of a million additional persons have placed their orders, but have not made cash payments in advance, it was said.

Preparations for production on a full capacity are proceeding rapidly, Ford officials say.

WRINGER ROLLS CRUSH TOT'S ARM

The right hand and arm of Frank, 18-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Severs, Ohio avenue, were crushed between the rubber rolls of an electric wringer yesterday afternoon.

The child, playing about the house, climbed upon the wringer and threw the lever, starting the rolls. His arm had been pulled through the wringer almost to the elbow before Mrs. Severs stopped the machine. Dr. W. G. McDade dressed the injury.

May Come to U. S.

Killed After "Hopping Ride."

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Daniel Kunat, 8, was dead today after slipping off the side of a truck on which he had "hopped a ride" late yesterday. The rear wheel of the truck passed over the boy's body.

Dr. Peter Reinhold, above, former minister of finance in Berlin and leader of the Democratic party in Germany, said to have been offered the post of ambassador to the United States to succeed the late Baron Ago von Maltzan, killed in an airplane accident, while on leave in Germany

REPORT FILED BY DOG WARDEN

Thirteen sheep were killed by dogs in Columbiana county last week, according to a report filed by County Dog Warden C. E. Donahy with the county commissioners Monday afternoon.

William A. Morris of Elkrun township lost three sheep valued at $20 and one cow was injured, the latter damage being placed at $3.75.
H. Stiller of Salem, R. F. D. No. 6 had 10 sheep killed, the stock being valued at $80. These damage claims, however, will not be paid until the close of the year, for under a new law it is provided that all such claims shall be paid every six months. Damage claims for the first six months were paid two weeks ago.

Sale Confirmed.
A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of distribution entered in the case of the Farmers National Bank of Salem in its foreclosure action filed in common pleas court July 1st last against Andrew Stewart and Gertrude E. Stewart. Just before the entry was made, however, the court granted the defendant Gertrude E. Stewart leave to file a cross petition.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts.

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system, so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

ENTRIES MADE IN DAMAGE SUITS

Elizabeth Lease, a party defendant in the suit pending in common pleas court and filed by Harriet Powers against W. S. Atkinson and others, has been granted leave of court to withdraw her demurrer to the petition and file a motion on or before October 20th. In this action the plaintiff seeks to recover $25,000 damages as a result of an accident.

In a $14,000 damage suit filed by Harvey A. Powers against the same defendants, and which was made a matter of record Aug. 19th last, a similar entry has been made by the court.

Partition Action.
An action in partition has been filed in common pleas court by Attorney George L. Lafferty of Lisbon in behalf of Earl A. Dattilo against Anna Onesta Chiero. The petition seeks a division of lots 730 and 731 in the Village of Leetonia because of the death of the father of the plaintiff.

Suit Instituted.
Through counsel Hill and Davidson of East Liverpool, The Cincinnati Finance Co., of Cincinnati, has filed an action in common pleas court against the Victory Motor Sales Co., Harvey McHenry and Robert McHenry, seeking judgment on a balance of $12,747.26 that is claimed to be due and owing on a note.

Leetonia

The annual business meeting of St. Paul's Lutheran church and Sunday school was held on Thursday evening in the chapel.

The business of the Sunday school was held first with the superintendent, I. F. Mellinger, in charge. Assistant Secretary Marcus Holt read the minutes of the meeting of 1926. The receipts of the Sunday school for the year amounted to more than $1,900, with expenditures of over $1,500. Of the $390 remaining in the treasury, $25 was given to the Lutheran Orient Missionary society, while $300 was donated to the church.

In the absence of the home department secretary, Mrs. W. S. Mellinger, the report was read by Mrs. W. S. Groner.

The cradle roll secretary, Mrs. Elmer Harold, then gave a report. A report was given by the chairman of the library committee, Dr. H. C. Brillhart. The nominating committee, consisting of W. L. Peet, Mrs. W. F. Floding and Mrs. L. R. Frederick, reported the nomination of the following for the Sunday school officers: Superintendent, I. F. Mellinger; assistant superintendent, C. J. Halverstad; superintendent of literature, C. E. Holt; superintendent of teachers, F. W. Mossman; secretary, Marcus Holt; first assistant secretary, Carl Stambaugh; second assistant secretary, John Cope; chorister, T. B. Cope; assistant chorister, Mrs. H. C. chinery efficiency and in processes of manufacture. It can not be said that electricity is driving out steam but the figures reveal eloquently how much more rapidly the use of electricity has advanced than that of steam and internal combustion engines.

Prime movers driven by electricity increased from approximately 1,500,000 at the beginning of the century to about 16,000,000 at the end of the first quarter. During the same period prime movers in manufacturing establishments driven by steam or internal combustion engines increased from some 8,300,000 in 1900 to 18,000,000. If the comparative rate of increase should continue, steam would be outdistanced in a few years.

The efficiency of labor has made great gains, it is noted, due to a variety of reasons. Personal efficiency has increased, this being caused partially by more intensive application in competition with other workers and by some is also attributed to prohibition. Loading and conveying devices have been invented which save time and work. The elimination of waste has helped. Advertising has been an assistant by educating the American people to accept standardized products, thus making mass production possible at lower costs. Another factor, especially since the war, has been the huge surplus of investment funds in the banks enabling manufacturers to obtain financing to extend plants, scrap obsolete machinery in favor of improved types, and install new and useful devices.

Even that butt of many jokes, the efficiency expert, is given a place among those who have increased production, eliminated waste, and made it possible for every man to produce more and have more.

Quicker and safer railroad transportation and the locating of industries more carefully, with an eye to labor markets, shipping facilities, accessibility to raw materials and the like, all have had their places in the new era.

Doubtless birds are not as brainy as men; but whenever they start on a long-distance hop they get somewhere. — Cincinnati Times-Star.

State Looks Ahead To Games With Northwestern And Illini

SET FOR TILT WITH BIG TEN CO-CHAMPS

Saturday Game Expected to Prove Crisis in Scarlet and Gray Season; Wilcemen to Meet Squad of Veterans.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—Ohio State University's huge stadium which has been occupied by the next to the largest crowd of spectators of any football contest in athletic history, will again this year be filled with record-breaking attendances, officials of the university believe.

When more than 92,000 persons jammed their way into the immense concrete structure at the annual conflict between the Buckeye squad and the Michigan Wolverines, last year, the number was declared to exceed any previous gathering at a gridiron tilt and a majority of other sporting contests.

Less than a month after, however, as two ancient grid rivals, the Army and Navy, clashed in the yearly football classic at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, the Ohio State record was broken. Nearly 100,000 fans saw the two components of the defensive power of the United States do battle at that time.

Although this year the Michigan-Ohio State fray will be staged on Wolverine soil at the new stadium at Ann Arbor, three other contests to be played by the Ohioans in their own stadium, will draw huge crowds.

The first, to be staged next Saturday afternoon with Northwestern will be attended by spectators for many miles around owing to the fact that it is expected to be the crisis of the season for the Ohio team. Northwestern was undefeated last year and shared the Big Ten Conference championship with Michigan. This year that same championship team will take the field against the Buckeye squad in an effort to ruin the latter's hopes for the title.

Students and grads alike will flock to the stadium for the annual "homecoming" ceremonies which will be held in connection with the Illinois game, Nov. 19, and the attendance figure will also be boosted at the annual "Dad's" day which will be observed at the Chicago game, Oct. 29.

A temporary section at the south end of the stadium, which was set up for the Michigan game last year, will probably be installed for the homecoming.

American Pro Court League Opens Nov. 19

Chicago to Pry Lid Off With Cleveland Quint.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The 1927-28 season of the American Professional Basketball league will open in Cleveland on Nov. 19 with Chicago opposing the Cleveland team, it was announced here yesterday following a meeting of club owners with President Joe F. Carr of Columbus.

A fifty-six game schedule and the transfer of two franchises were approved at the session. The Brooklyn Celtics, last year's champions, will move to Madison Square Garden under Tex Ricard's direction. The Baltimore franchise has been transferred to Detroit, where home games will be played at the new Olympic arena.

Beckman to Pilot Detroit.

Johnny Beckman, formerly of the Celtics, who led the Baltimore team last winter, will captain and manage the Detroit team.

The league will remain an eight club affair, the franchises being located in New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Fort Wayne, Rochester, Washington and Philadelphia. The schedule calls for twenty-six home games for each team except Detroit, which will play only twenty-one on its home court.

On Nov. 20, Philadelphia will play at New York and Rochester at Washington. On Nov. 21, Fort Wayne will appear at Detroit.

RISKO'S EYES ON TITLE

AMONG the army of heavyweights who hope to get a crack at the crown won by Gene Tunney, is the much improved John Risko, the human piece of concrete.

As shown in his recent 10-round victory over Jack Delaney, the boy who resigned as light-heavy king to go after the heavier men and heavier purses, Risko has improved his boxing and not at the expense of his punch. Last year Risko finished a miserable second in his first argument with Delaney.

Right now John is considered one of the most dangerous men in the heavy ranks. Only a pile driver can knock him out and though not so fast on his feet, he makes up for it with flying fists. He owns one of the best lefts in the business.

Gene Tunney can prove his claim. Gene fought the Cleveland rubber man 12 rounds late in 1925 and although the champ easily won the decision, it must be said in defense of Risko that he hit Tunney plenty.

Besides Tunney and Delaney, Risko has fought Sharkey, Berlenbach, Bob Pittsimmans, Mike McTigue, Eddie Huffman, Romero Rojas, Young Stribling, Tommy Loughron and a flock of others not so important.

Jack Dempsey was to fight Risko last July in Detroit, but before negotiations were completed, Dempsey received the offer to meet Jack Sharkey in New York.

Now just how far Risko can go toward a shot at Tunney will be determined on Oct. 26, when he meets Tom Heeney, who recently stopped Jimmy Maloney in 77 seconds.

MIDLAND LAD COMING STAR AT OHIO STATE

"Andy" Brozic, 198-pound Tackle, Understudies Raskowski and Uridil; Sees Action in Wittenberg Contest.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—Andrew "Andy" Brozic, Midland, Pa., is one of the "coming" gridders on Coach "Jack" Wilce's football squad at Ohio State University.

Brozic plays tackle on the Scarlet and Gray team and is one of the Buckeye's heaviest men, tipping the scales at 198 pounds. He is 5 feet, seven and one-half inches tall and is 23 years of age.

The Midland youth saw action in his first inter-collegiate football contest when Ohio State played Wittenberg here recently. He is a member of the "A" squad designated by Coach Wilce as the first string players. Brozic was a star on the freshman squad last fall.

Owing to the fact that veteran grid men now hold down the position for which Brozic is a candidate, it is not likely that he will see much action this year but will be a mainstay of the Scarlet and Gray next season.

Present first-team tackles on the squad are Raskowski and Uridil.

Brozic is enrolled in the College of Arts at the university. He will have two more years for collegiate football after this season.

East Palestine May Lose Star Ball Carrier

Lynch Fractures Arm in Salineville Game.

PAUL LYNCH, East Palestine's left halfback, who has been a tower of strength for the Brown and White in games of the 1927 season to date, probably will not be able to take his customary place in the lineup against East Liverpool when the two county rivals clash next Saturday afternoon on the East Palestine gridiron.

Lynch, it was reported today, is suffering from the effects of a fractured arm, sustained in the game at Salineville.

East Palestine won, 13 to 0, but if Lynch is incapacitated to the extent which school authorities there believe he is, then the victory will prove mighty costly.

In all likelihood, Lynch will be out of the game for the remainder of the season. An examination taken at the Salem city hospital indicated that a bone had been splintered.

The East Liverpool-East Palestine game will start at 2:30, according to word today from Leo Dolan, faculty aid.

Shull, of Youngstown, will referee. Wentz, also of Youngstown, will act as umpire, and Gregory, of Carnegie Tech, headlinesman.

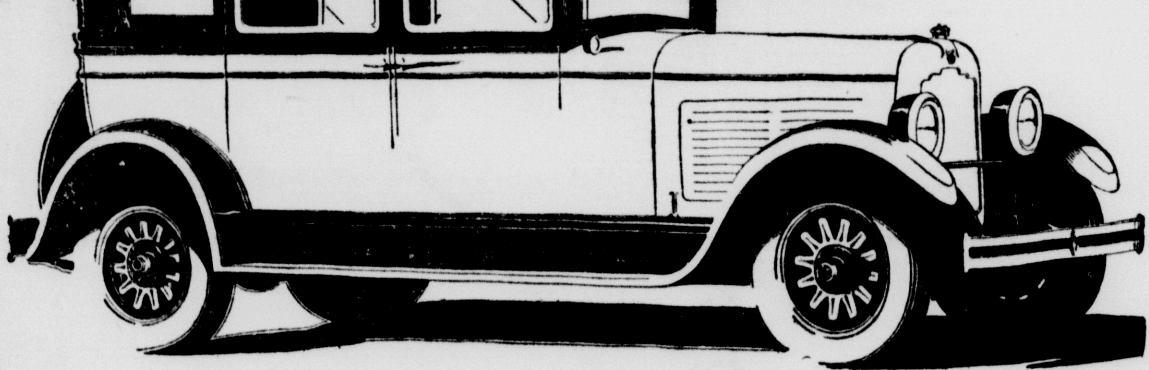

Coach Joe Hurst expects to give the Blue and White several stiff scrimmage sessions during the forepart of the present week, to make up, in some respects, for the loaf Saturday.

Here Is "Toad"

Edwin J. Crofoot of Mason City, Iowa, is the flashy little captain of the University of Wisconsin grid squad. "Toad" is looked upon by Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite as one of the mainstays of the team.

Eager to Meet its Comrades —comes the Wolverine Sedan

Far and wide the Wolverines of the roads have gone. Strongest of their size, able and willing to conquer any conditions of highway or traffic, they have lived up to the reputation of that fearless master of the woods, the wolverine, for whom they are named.

Eager to take its place beside the other Wolverines of the roads, comes the new Wolverine Sedan, low and long . . . a roomy, brawny, comfortable four-door sedan for those who want Wolverine performance plus a sedan body.

Look one over and try one out. Feel for yourself its sweeping flow of power, the soft and certain action of its Velvet Stop brakes. Use its easily handled controls, pit it against time or grades, hold it at a fast pace for hour after hour. ## BANKERS COP FIRST START IN DUX LOOP

Greene and Blythe in Top Form as Indiana Trucks Bow in Three-match Series; 455 Total Leads.

LAST of a year's time since the Business Men's league scattered the timber at the Liberty alley apparently has not dulled the marksmanship of at least a couple of the 1926 veterans.

Millard "Bones" Blythe and Johnny Greene, of the Bankers' duckpin outfit, which finished high in the circuit last season, made their 1927-28 debut last night in the opening match of the league, along with other members of the squad. Blythe rolled high count for the night, with a total score of 455 for three games. Greene was right at his heels with a 450.

As a result of their big scores, the Bankers were able to take two out of three from the Indiana Trucks, led by Leo Carr, who banged out a 436 total, and Scotty Alcock, who finished a point ahead of the 400 mark.

On Wednesday night the Roselawns and the Smith News league will swing into action and Friday's match brings together the Altman and Super Flashes.

Last night's scores:

Bankers—
Farrell	116 90 266
Adams	98 132 230
White	149 113 105 367
Blythe	175 158 122 455

Hawkeyes Seek Revenge.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 11.—Old Gold regulars were to be drilled afresh today for next Saturday's tilt with Wash, following scrimmage and drills in long punting and passing. Disappointed but not downhearted by the defeat last Saturday at the hands of Ohio State, the Hawkeyes expect to reap a swift revenge in next Saturday's game.

Michigan at Top Strength.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 11.—Michigan's full football strength will be hurled against the Badgers in next Saturday's annual tilt at Madison, Wis. It was discussed today, as Coach Tad Wieman ordered secret practice for his men. In view of the Wisconsin team's showing against Kansas last week, no effort will be spared to perfect every possible play that may bring gains to the Wolverines. Offensive tactics will be stressed with Greenwald, Babcock, Giesert, fuller, Gembs and Robbins.

Buckeye Game Law Changes Are Outlined

Legislature Rules in Respect to Fur-Bearing Animals.

State Representative W. H. Van Fossen today announced that a number of changes had been made by the last legislature in the game laws of Ohio, and with special reference to fur-bearing animals.

The legislature amended section 1398 of the General Code, as passed by the 87th General Assembly divides that state into two districts: "Lake Erie trapping district" and "inland trapping district." The former consists of the waters of Lake Erie and the waters, lands and marshes within ten miles of it. The remainder of the state makes up the latter.

In Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula, Geauga, Portage, Summit, Stark and Cuyahoga counties, skunk, fox, raccoon and opossum may be taken and possessed only from the first day of November to the fifteenth day of January, both inclusive. In the remainder of the state the open season for these animals is from November 15 to February 1 and is thus 15 days later than in the nine counties named. In all the "inland district" the open season for muskrat is from November 15 to March 1. In the "Lake Erie district" the muskrat season is from December 1 to March 15. The open season for mink in the whole state is from November 15 to March 1.

It is further provided that "No person shall catch, kill, injure or pursue with such intent a raccoon, except from 6 o'clock p. m. to 6 o'clock a. m., and except at field trials and be it further provided that at no time shall a raccoon be taken from its den." Fur-bearing animals doing injury to property may be killed at any time except on Sunday. The hide or pelt, however, must be left on the carcass. The provisions and penalties of the old law remain practically the same as to having illegal possession of skins and pelts. Also in regard to digging out, drowning out or smoking out any animal from its den or in any way destroying the den or burrow of such animals.

AT PITTSBURGH—Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, won from Cuddy De Marco, Pittsburgh, eight rounds.

FOUR COACHES WHIP PURPLE GRID SQUAD INTO TRIM FOR BIG GAMES

GLIMPSES FROM THE SIDELINES

Illini Lineup Problematical.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 11.—The lineup of Coach Zuppke's Illini for the game with Iowa was a matter of speculation today as the men were shifted about, and changed from first to second teams. A strong defense against the Cyclone was on the practice cards for today. While Garland Grange and Wolgast have been disposing themselves at ends; Crane and Mitterwaller at guards; Reitsch, at center; Muegge and Gordon at tackles, and French, Walker and Timm and D'Ambrósio in the backfield, there is at present no telling which of these men will step out when the whistle sounds for the opening of next Saturday's game.

Scrimmage for Purdue.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 11.—Coach James Phelan of the Purdue football squad had a heavy scrimmage scheduled for his Boilermakers today, in preparation for the game with the University of Chicago team at Stag field in Chicago next Saturday. The squad returned from Cambridge, Mass., after its conquest of Harvard, in good shape, there being no serious hurts to the players. Hutson, at end, is minus a tooth. Bob Wilson, quarter, has a slight limp. Ralph Welch, who electrified the football world by his playing, has a skinned nose. While the men are elated by their victory, Coach James Phelan isn't so optimistic, believing that Harvard's team is weak in some departments, and that the big teams will offer much stiffer competition. Captain Wilcox will not be able to play as yet, being still disabled.

State's Chances at Stake.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—Probably the most important Western Conference game, from many aspects, will be staged here next Saturday when Northwestern university's Wildcats tackle the Buckeyes. Both teams are regarded as strong contenders for championship honors in the conference this season. The two teams have not played each other for ten seasons. Signal drill and forward pass practice were to feature today's workout for the men.

Stiff Drill for Badgers.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 11.—With their first Big Ten battle of the season only three days away, Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite and his staff planned to put the Badger team through a hard scrimmage today in preparation for the game with Michigan. Sykes and McKaskle, first string guards who were not used in the game with Kansas, will likely play next Saturday. Wisconsin's passing game will be stressed, in order to strengthen the one department of the Badgers which is not yet up to the liking of the coaches.

Practice Purdue Plays.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Elated by their victory over Indiana, Chicago's Maroons were to be pepped up considerably today by Coach Stagg in preparation for their stiff game next Saturday with Purdue, conquerors of Harvard. With freshmen and second teams duplicating many of the plays that enabled Ralph Welch and his colleagues of Purdue to smash Harvard all over the gridiron, the Maroons' regular team were to be drilled thoroughly in a style of play they may expect when they meet the Boilermakers. Purdue's formidable attack is expected to give Stagg's men trouble, and much attention is being paid to defense.

Spears Takes No Chances.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 11.—Despite Chicago's defeat of Indiana last Saturday, Coach Spears of the Gophers is taking no chances on the outcome of the game scheduled with the Hoosiers at Bloomington, Ind., next Saturday, and today ordered rigorous practice. Herb Joesting, all-American star and captain, was to be back in scrimmage today, and will likely be active in the game against Indiana.

ALLIANCE, Oct. 11.—A quarter of a century of coaching experience is combined in the Mount varsity staff this year. Four coaches are being used instead of the usual two in an effort to whip the green material into a winning football team.

At the left of the middle row is shown John Gorsuch, former Kenyon star. Gorsuch has assisted Coach Thorpe for the past three years. The group left to right is George O'Brien, Head Coach John Thorpe and Harry Goltz. Thorpe has been athletic director at Mount Union for five years and coached high school teams for five years prior to coming to Mount Union. O'Brien was assistant coach at Mount Union under Dawson and served for three years as athletic director, retiring to enter business in Alliance. Goltz coached Alliance high school for a number of years. All three are alumni of Mount Union college. Gorsuch was athletic director at a southern college for three years after leaving Kenyon. He is practicing law at Canton.

AT BALTIMORE—Benny Schwartz, won decision over Joe Ryder, Brooklyn, 12 rounds.

Jackie Feldman, New York, won decision over Al Martin, Baltimore, 10 rounds.

YOUNG'S MEN FACING SEVEN TOUGH GAMES

Early Lineup is Proved in Clash With "Iron Men" Line Stands Crushing Attack; Backs Need Little Polishing.

By Malcolm Roy.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—No football eleven in the east appears more formidable at the moment than the University of Pennsylvania team, which, though relatively green and inexperienced, has taken a commanding position because of its unheralded victory over the powerful Brown university "iron men."

Coach Lou Young of the Quakers has made an estimable beginning in solving one of the most difficult problems ever presented to a coach, with seven games of major proportion following two admittedly easy contests. In fact the game with Brown would have been regarded by most teams as a climatic battle but Young had to have his eleven ready to take it in its stride. With Brown out of the way, Penn now has before it Penn State, Chicago, Navy, Harvard, Columbia and Cornell in that order.

Fortunately Young's early selection of his line-up has been proved by the ordeal of battle to be just about the best that he could have chosen in any event. The line from tackle to tackle is a sturdy, cohesive piece of machinery, beautifully balanced and well trained both on offense and defense. With Olexy at center and Utz and McGinnis at the guards, the Red and Blue has a centre trio of remarkable flexibility on defense and rugged effectiveness on the attack. Olexy is unhurried in his passes and has the endurance of a man of brass, as was demonstrated when he played through the Swarthmore game with the temperature running up to 100 degrees and his mates falling at his side every few minutes. Monk and Hoffman are the second string guards.

Folsell Scull, brother of Paul, has won the left end post. He and Lenzner make a fine pair of wings. George Foster Sanford's son is understudy for Scull and may yet demonstrate that he is quite as effective a football player as the elder Sanford was in his student days at New Haven.

But it is in the backfield that the Quakers are at their best. Young has improved the masked ball players to a fine point of perfection. The backfield is composed of Paul Scull, the intercollegiate sprinter; Martin Brill, sophomore halfback, the veteran Colon at fullback and Shober at quarter. Shober is green but he clicked off the plays against Brown with the assurance of a veteran.

AT JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Phil Goldstein, Pittsburgh, awarded newspaper decision over Louis Gugliemini, New York, ten rounds.

Rocco Booked With Seifert On Zill's Card

Youngstown Matchmaker Opens Indoor Season.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 11.—When the opening bell of the Rocco-Seifert battle starts these two young men on their way at the Rayen-Wood auditorium, tonight in Promoter Al Zill's inaugural show of the indoor season, the fight fans of this locality will be treated to a glimpse of two of the best of the younger group of heavyweights.

Rocco has met several opponents in local rings, some of whom have been easy picking for the Ellwood City kid, while others have made him stop to win the "duke." It is safe to say, however, that this fellow Seifert is the best boy that he has ever been called upon to meet.

Six feet tall and weighing close to 190 pounds, fast and clever as a lightweight, and with a punch in both hands, that is stiff enough to slay 'em if it lands properly, Seifert is looked to go a long way in the fight racket.

After Rocco stopped Romero Rojas in quick time, the promoters around New York immediately got busy trying to line him up for several shots in the city. Joe Cumo, manager of Rocco, refused to be stampeded by the sight of his money, and says that Emmett must punch his way up. Seifert will be the first of many boys that Rocco will have to pass on his long march on the way to New York, the big money and international fame.

Pete Canall and Andy Stahura will swap punches in the semi-final bout of six rounds at 128 pounds. They are both rugged and good action fighters, and should please the fans. Pickles Donahue, former amateur middleweight champ, will make his professional bow, with Jimmy Gilmour, of Canton, in another six-rounder. Keefe Buckley, Youngstown's fighting Scot will tackle Mickey Solomon of New Castle, Pa., in the other six rounder. This will be Buckley's maiden effort since his K. O. at the hands of Joe Canall.

"BIG PARADE" IS WAR EPIC

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree at American.

That monumental epic, "The Big Parade," starring John Gilbert, was shown last night at the American theatre before a deeply impressed and enthusiastic audience of ex-soldiers, regular theatregoers and many who seldom attend a motion picture. "The Big Parade" is a simple story, simply told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likeable young fellow enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, played delightfully by Karl Dane and Tom O'Brien. While stationed behind the lines, he falls in love with a French peasant girl, Melisande, and at the conclusion of the war goes home to find conditions changed. It would be unfair to future audiences to tell the rest of the story. How he works out his destiny is the basis of a powerful and human climax. King Vidor has reached an exalted cinematic goal with this picture. The film has a martial swing and the rhythm of blended comedy and drama. Its romance and heart interest awaken a response in every spectator in the audience.

John Gilbert is superb as the American doughboy; he has never done anything finer. Renee Adoree plays the part of the French Melisande to perfection. There is something in the love scenes between these two that makes the heart leap.

Frequently terrible in its swiftness and emotional quality, "The Big Parade" is not all filled with the terror of war. Its first half is filled with almost continuous laughter. The second half shows, more clearly than anything else ever has, its grim realities.

How The Other Half Behaves

"Ain't No Boy," HARRISBURG, Pa.—"Boy, take off that cap," said Judge W. M. Hargest, interrupting a case and turning to a witness near the bar. "I ain't no boy," replied a little colored girl pulling off the cap and displaying a boyish bob. She then sat down again and replaced the cap. Deliberately and pensively the judge wiped his spectacles.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SHUDDER AT MEXICAN SLAYING

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Gen Serrano "had it coming to him," according to Mexican law.

All the same, the state department folks couldn't repress a slight shudder at the short work Gen. Obregon made of him a few days ago, with his chief lieutenants, for rebellion against President Calles.

Serrano was Obregon's war minister. They were buddies. "Like brothers" was the way they generally were described.

Still, there was no doubt about Serrano's rebellion.

THE Emperor Maximilian's government made the law originally, in the 60's. It provided no ceremony with rebels, caught red-handed—a drum-head court martial and a firing squad—pronto!

Maximilian used it against Rebel Juarez's forces for quite awhile.

Then Juarez caught Maximilian and executed him, under his own law. He said Maximilian was the rebel, not he (Juarez).

It was too handy a law to repeal. The Mexicans have kept it ever since. It accounts for so many military executions south of the Rio Grande. Some critics say it amounts to butchering prisoners of war. No such thing. It's a law.

EVEN though a rebel, Serrano appears to have been an exceptionally fine chap. Washington officials knew him quite well, through his connection with the Obregon regime, and were mighty sorry to hear he'd been shot.

ment won't grant new well permits. Official figures show 529 permits granted from Jan. 1 to Aug. 10.

While not a record, experts pronounce this fairly good, for a time when the companies are curtailing Mexican drilling and capping wells, to counteract the American oversupply, which can better be done there than here, because Mexican derricks aren't so congested and pumping competition consequently isn't so keen.

At the same time, combining business with pleasure, they seem to be blaming the Mexican government for what they want to do any way.

1,000 DELEGATES AT WELFARE MEET

CANTON, O., Oct. 11.—More than 1,000 delegates are here for the seventh annual meeting of the Ohio welfare conference which opened today and continues through Friday.

Officers of the conference are: Bleeker Marquette, Cincinnati, president; Judge Harry Gram Springfield, first vice-president; Pearl M. Worley, Canton, second vice-president; H. H. Shirer, Columbus, treasurer, and Mary B. Holsinger, Columbus, executive secretary. Mrs. Margaret Elton of Delaware, and Beel Grove of Columbus, represent the state department of public welfare on the executive committee.

"BIG PARADE" IS WAR EPIC

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree at American.

That monumental epic, "The Big Parade," starring John Gilbert, was shown last night at the American theatre before a deeply impressed and enthusiastic audience of ex-soldiers, regular theatregoers and many who seldom attend a motion picture. "The Big Parade" is a simple story, simply told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likeable young fellow enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, played delightfully by Karl Dane and Tom O'Brien. While stationed behind the lines, he falls in love with a French peasant girl, Melisande, and at the conclusion of the war goes home to find conditions changed. It would be unfair to future audiences to tell the rest of the story. How he works out his destiny is the basis of a powerful and human climax. King Vidor has reached an exalted cinematic goal with this picture. The film has a martial swing and the rhythm of blended comedy and drama. Its romance and heart interest awaken a response in every spectator in the audience.

John Gilbert is superb as the American doughboy; he has never done anything finer. Renee Adoree plays the part of the French Melisande to perfection. There is something in the love scenes between these two that makes the heart leap. Frequently terrible in its swiftness and emotional quality, "The Big Parade" is not all filled with the terror of war. Its first half is filled with almost continuous laughter. The second half shows, more clearly than anything else ever has, its grim realities.

IN MISERY WITH ECZEMA

On Scalp. Spread Over Body. Cuticura Healed.

"Eczema broke out in a rash on my scalp and soon spread over my body. It itched and burned so badly that I scratched, causing sore eruptions that festered. My hair became dry and all fell out. I could not go out in public because the irritation caused me to scratch so much. I was in misery and could not sleep nights. The trouble lasted four years."

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the first treatment I got relief so purchased more, which healed me." (Signed) Mrs. J. W. House, R.R.1, Franklin, Ohio.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for daily toilet purposes. Send for Ointment 25¢ and Soap 15¢. Sold every where. Sample each free. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SHUDDER AT MEXICAN SLAYING

By Charles P. Stewart.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Gen. Serrano "had it coming to him," according to Mexican law.

All the same, the state department folks couldn't repress a slight shudder at the short work Gen. Obregon made of him a few days ago, with his chief lieutenants, for rebellion against President Calles.

Serrano was Obregon's war minister. They were buddies. "Like brothers" was the way they generally were described.

Still, there was no doubt about Serrano's rebellion.

THE Emperor Maximilian's government made the law originally, in the 60's. It provided—no ceremony with rebels, caught red-handed—a drum-head court martial and a firing squad—pronto!

Maximilian used it against Rebel Juarez's forces for quite awhile.

Then Juarez caught Maximilian and executed him, under his own law. He said Maximilian was the rebel; not he (Juarez).

It was too handy a law to repeal. The Mexicans have kept it ever since. It accounts for so many military executions south of the Rio Grande. Some critics say it amounts to butchering prisoners of war. No such thing. It's a law.

EVEN though a rebel, Serrano appears to have been an exceptionally fine chap. Washington officials knew him quite well, through his connection with the Obregon regime, and were mighty sorry to hear he'd been shot.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can't penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Dr. Lee C. Johnson was a veterinarian when he was appointed director of the Kansas City, Mo., fire department 18 months ago. During his administration of the department, fire losses in the city decreased $1,500,000 in 1926 and $1,022,541 during the first eight months of 1927.

ment won't grant new well permits. Official figures show 529 permits granted from Jan. 1 to Aug. 10. While not a record, experts pronounce this fairly good, for a time when the companies are curtailing Mexican drilling and capping wells, to counteract the American over-supply, which can better be done there than here, because Mexican devices aren't so congested and pumping competition consequently isn't so keen.

At the same time, combining business with pleasure, they seem to be blaming the Mexican government for what they want to do any way.

1,000 DELEGATES AT WELFARE MEET

CANTON, O., Oct. 11.—More than 1,000 delegates are here for the seventh annual meeting of the Ohio welfare conference which opened today and continues through Friday. Officers of the conference are: Bleeker Marquette, Cincinnati, president; Judge Harry Gram Springfield, first vice-president; Pearl M. Worley, Canton, second vice-president; H. H. Shiner, Columbus, treasurer, and Mary B. Holsinger, Columbus, executive secretary. Mrs. Margaret Elton of Delaware, and Beel Grove of Columbus, represent the state department of public welfare on the executive committee.

AKRON PAPER IN NEW HOME

AKRON, O., Oct. 11.—The Akron Beacon-Journal, published by former Congressman C. L. Knight, began publication yesterday from its new million dollar plant here.

The new structure marks 88 years of publishing of the newspaper in this city. It is one of the most modern plants in any city of Akron's size in the country.

How THE Other Half Behaves

"I Ain't No Boy."
HARRISBURG, Pa.—"Boy, take off that cap," said Judge W. M. Hardest, interrupting a case and turning to a witness near the bar. "I ain't no boy," replied a little colored girl pulling off the cap and displaying a boyish bob. She then sat down again and replaced the cap. Deliberately and pensively the judge wiped his spectacles.

Call Police To Suppress Mouse.
PAINSVILLE, O.—Excitement reigned in the house of Ernest Frye when he and his son Raymond, 24, heard a noise in the basement at midnight. A call brought two policemen and the four of them cautiously, with drawn pistols ascended to the basement calling upon the supposed prowler to surrender. But, hovering in a corner they saw a frightened little mouse.

Sally's Shoulders

by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of "HER MAN," "MONEY LOU," "THE HOLLYWOOD GIRL," ETC.

Chapter XXIX.

"Did you want to see Millie?" asked Sally, walking straight up to Davidson and shaking hands with him in her brisk, business-like way.

"Yes—but I'd rather see you," Davidson answered, holding her hand in her eyes met his straight and full. Sally's eyes had no flirtations, side-long glances. Set bewitchingly wide apart and fringed with long, silky lashes, they had the frankness of a child's eyes.

"Millie's at home today. She was night about your coming to work for Mr. Nye," she said. "Do you mind my asking if that was what you came for?"

It was a daring question, but Davidson answered it with a jerk of his head.

"The bond business hasn't been so good lately, and I thought I'd try selling lots instead," he said shortly, with a smile that did not light up his gray eyes. "How would you like to meet me after work today, and we'll go and buy Millie some roses?"

Sally shook her head at him and laughed. "I imagine you can buy roses without any of my help," she smiled. "You look as if you'd bought plenty of them in your time. Besides, I've got to hurry home today."

That night when she got home Millie was sitting up in bed eating chocolate ice cream in a big bowl. Beside her sat Mrs. Jerome with another bowl of it in her lap.

"Ice cream!" exclaimed Sally, coming to a stop in the doorway. "Did the doctor say Millie could have ice cream?" It seemed to her that chocolate ice cream was a pretty heavy diet for an invalid.

Mrs. Jerome looked guilty. "Well, he said she could have liquid food," she said. "And ice cream is liquid—after it's melted. We were so hot, and we just telephoned the drug store man to send a quart of it up to us. Millie says she's just burning up."

Sally saw at a glance that Millie was feverish. Her eyes had a hard glitter and her cheeks were flushed to the temples.

"You give me that stuff!" cried Sally, and leaning across the bed she took the bowl out of her sister's small, clutching hand. "Mother you know that she shouldn't have a thing but clear soup or milk."

"That's what the doctor meant by a liquid diet," Mrs. Jerome said.

"Well, there wasn't any milk in the house, or any soup either," replied her mother with a pathetic quiver in her voice. "I suppose I could have gone traipsing out in the heat for some—but the drug store is so nice about delivering things, and I thought the ice cream wouldn't hurt Millie a bit."

The sound of her voice followed Sally out to the kitchen, where she threw the remaining ice cream into the sink and turned a stream of hot water upon it.

She opened the ice box to see what there was for supper. A bowl of cold mashed potatoes stood there. An uncooked sirloin steak was wrapped in waxed paper on the top shelf, and there was a big dish of salad greens beside it.

"We'll have potato balls and salad and tea for supper—that will be plenty for Mother and me," Sally said to herself. Millie doesn't need anything to-night. And in the morning I'll use half of that steak to make her a bowl of soup. The other half can be broiled for tomorrow night's supper."

She knew that it was going to take a good deal of careful planning and figuring to get through the week with the tiny sum of money that lay folded tight in the bottom of her purse. . . . Seven dollars. Not quite seven dollars.

She went back to Millie's room, where Mrs. Jerome was finishing her ice cream in an aggrieved silence. She sniffed and looked out of the window when Sally came and stood beside Millie's bed.

"Dear," said Sally quietly. "I hate to talk to you about money just now—but I had to give the doctor five dollars last night, and I wonder if you have any money left from your salary."

Millie raised her eyebrows. "I suppose it will all go on doctor bills," she grumbled. "And it was just nonsense to call Ambleside for me. I didn't need him at all."

She shot a look of fury at her mother. "Why don't you go and call Beau and Mabel up and ask them to give you back part of that two hundred?" she drawled, her blue eyes smouldering. "Then you could pay the doctor without calling on me for the little bit of money I've got."

"I've tried to get them all day," quavered Mrs. Jerome, half rising from her chair. "But Beau wasn't at the bank and Mabel wasn't at Bur-sall's. I don't know where they can be."

"Probably out spending the money!" Millie came back at her indignantly. "Why don't you try to get them at their boarding house?"

As she spoke there came a loud drumming on the front door.

The three women looked at one another. . . . That was Beau's knock!

"Talk about the angels and they're sure to appear," quoted Mrs. Jerome. "There are Beau and Mabel now."

She turned to go to let them in.

"You get some of that money from them! Do you hear?" Millie shouted as she vanished.

"Hush!" Sally said pleadingly. "Don't get yourself excited, dear. Do lie down and take things easy. You look so hot, Millie. Don't you think I ought to have the doctor again?"

But Millie shook her head and slumped down in bed. "Just let me sleep. I'm all right," she said crossly, and Sally left her.

In the living room Beau and Mabel and Mrs. Jerome were all crowded at the front window looking down into the street.

Mabel turned at the sound of Sally's step on the carpet and seized her by her arms, dancing her around the room. "We've bought a car!" she squealed. "A car!—A roadster! Take a look—see!—Beau and Mabel have got a car of their own at last!"

She seemed to be beside herself with joy as she pranced around the cozy little room, waving her arms and kicking out with her slim silk-clad legs.

Mrs. Jerome looked at her with great disfavor. "I don't see what you're yelling about!" she said grimly. "It strikes me as a great piece of foolishness. To buy a car when you don't own a single stick of furniture, and haven't a nickel laid away in the bank for a rainy day!"

She went out to her own room and banged the door shut behind her.

Sally, herself, could have wept as she looked at the gaudy little second-hand roadster that stood out in the street. Even through the twilight its bright red paint glowed like a bonfire, and its hood was decorated by a shiny brass figure of a bathing girl. It was exactly the kind of car that she would have expected Mabel to pick out.

"Beau," she couldn't help saying, "you might have paid some of your debt first."

She thought of the load of them he had laid on her own shoulders, and that she was doing her level best to pay off within a year.

But if the thought of them weighed down her spirits it did not seem to worry Beau at all. Not a shadow crossed his blond face or settled in his eyes.

"Got anything to eat?" he asked blithely. "We've been riding around all afternoon and we're as empty as can be."

"We've got hollow legs, we're so hungry!" warbled Mabel, following him to the kitchen where they soon made short work of the steak that Sally had been saving for the next day.

"We've rented a flat," Beau said, between great mouthfuls of it. "We're going to move in tomorrow. It's furnished."

"It's as cute as a crow's nest," added Mabel. "Everything built in. In-a-door beds, and breakfast nook, and everything! I'm just as batty about it as a bat!"

They were having a fine time with Mrs. Jerome's check. That was plain enough.

The next morning when Sally left the house at 10 minutes after 11, Millie was still asleep.

Sally had looked in once or twice during the morning, and each time Millie had been lying in the same position, her face flushed, her breath coming regularly but quickly.

"She's just fine," Mrs. Jerome had decided. "Sleep's what she needs. She's hardly ever in bed before 1 or 2 o'clock, you know—and it's my guess that she's just worn out."

So Sally had not been worried when she started out into the bluest, brightest, windiest October day that ever was.

The office was empty when she arrived, and the morning mail was scattered on the floor by the door where the postman had slipped it.

Sally took off her hat, smoothed back her hair with her fine, sensitive hands, and began to open the envelopes.

The telephone rang shrilly. "That's Mr. Peevey, to see if I'm here on time," thought Sally and she smiled to herself as she lifted the receiver.

But the smile vanished instantly. For it was her mother's voice at the other end of the wire.

"Sally—Sally—get home here as fast as you can," it gasped. "Millie—get here, Sally!"

Then there was a click and silence. (To be continued.)

Sour Stomach

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
